Antioch will have contests next election

Mayor is expected to be challenged; supervisor position will be a race

ALEC JUNG
 Staff Reporter

There will be at least two major races in the Antioch area in the April 1997 election.

With two announced candidates for township supervisor and two candidates expected in the mayoral race, politics will surely be a hot topic of winter and early spring conversations.

In the village race, Mayor Marilyn Shineflug has taken out a candidate petition and will run again.

Incumbents Ron Cunningham, Judy Larson and Marvin Oldenburger are up for election and are expected to join Shineflug on a slate.

Shineflug is finishing her first term as mayor after she defeated Larry Hanson in 1993.

Another mayoral candidate is expected to announce. That person may not be known until the filing deadline Jan. 13-17.

Likely issues in the campaign would include residential growth, business development and future planning.

Someone came to village hall seeking a mayoral petition but was picking it up for someone else, according to Village Clerk Candi Rowe.

Historically there has almost always been a race for mayor and township supervisor.

There has not been any campaigning due See ELECTION page A2

Antioch Jewel store picked for wedding proposal

ALEC JUNG
 Staff Reporter

For Kathy Collins, the Antioch Jewel was the last place in the world she expected to get a wedding proposal.

As she was walking through the aisle on Christmas Eve picking out groceries, she heard a familiar voice coming over the PA system. It was her boyfriend Kirk Yonker.

"Kathy Collins, if you want to spend the rest of your life with me come to the courtesy counter for your engagement ring," Yonker said.

Yonker added Collins was embarrassed and didn't come to the counter right away.

"She was really surprised," Yonker joked.

He said the Jewel staff was willing to go along with his strange request. They provided a dozen roses, champagne and a small cake to commemorate the occasion.

Yonkers felt this was the great place to propose because she wouldn't know it was coming.

"It was perfect because she never suspected it," he said.

He even pretended to be angry before they arrived at the store.

"She was wondering why I seemed so crabby," Yonker said.

The couple had been dating for six years. Yonkers, 30, works for Yonkers Industries and resides in Twin Lakes. Collins is 38 and is employed at an insurance agency in Arlington Heights and lives in Arlington Heights.

Their good news was shared by holiday shoppers

"They were standing in front cheering us," he said.

The couple is planning June 14, 1997, as their wedding date.

Election

to the holiday season.

For the township races, all elected offices are up for election.

Township Supervisor Jim Fields has announced he will not seek re-election. Township Trustee Tim Osmond and activist Carol Jonites are vying for the post.

Osmond is a two-term trustee. He owns an insurance company and is the president of the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Jonites formed and is president of United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA). She also is president of Felter's Homeowners Association.

Big issues in this race are the possibility of sewers in unincorporated areas and the role of the supervisor to name a few.

Trustees Judith Davis, Richard Kufalk, Claudette Skvarce and Osmond are up for re-election as are Clerk Richard Harlan and Assessor Cliff Houghton.

Highway Commissioner Mark Ring will again seek the highway duties for another term.

Riverboats must jump hurdles first

JEFF PATERSON
Staff Correspondent

While the village of Fox Lake may have a site to dock a potential riverboat casino, a site is not the entire battle.

The Fox Lake Village Board approved a site for the docking of riverboats on Dec. 2. The approved site is a 19-acre parcel of land on Route 12 near Fox Lake Ford Mercury.

There are still some snags in putting a boat in the water, however.

In order to go into operation, a riverboat casino would require an owner's license from the Illinois General Assembly. A gambling license from the Illinois Gaming Board would also be needed.

Legal reform would also be needed in order for riverboats to operate on waters which are not navigable rivers or streams.

As an ally to the process, newly-elected state Rep. Mark Beaubien (R-52) is reserved in his support.

Beaubien said that, while he is personally opposed to gambling, he also realizes the fiscal appeal and popularity of riverboats.

"I'm fundamentally opposed to gambling; I think it takes from the poor and hurts the lowest level of our society."

"Having said that, I'm also a realist. I realize that if the funds raised for that purpose (riverboats) were not raised here, they would be raised in Iowa and Wisconsin."

With the apparent choice of one or more riverboats being built in Illinois or seeing them built elsewhere and attracting residents to spend their money outside the state, Beaubien accepts the gaming establishments as a fact of life.

"Gambling is here to stay, and so I'm not going to go out there and lead a crusade for the state to oppose it," he said.

Beaubien indicated that while he will not oppose riverboat legislation, he will also do little to bring it forward. Instead, he will seek to guide its benefits toward Lake County if such legislation becomes a reality.

"My position is that I will take no active role in voting or pushing for any form of riverboat gambling. However, I'm committed to the people of Lake County, Waukegan and elsewhere."

"If a bill comes forth to legislators and it appears that it is going to pass, I'll do everything I can to see that Lake County gets it (a riverboat)."

Should legislation for further riverboats be approved, Beaubien said he would try to bring any potential economic windfall to his constituents.

"If it's going to happen, I certainly want to see our people be able to benefit from it."

Betty Sills GALLERY

Artist finds downtown Antioch a great place

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Betty Sills is enjoying having a home for her art.

Sills, a renowned Midwest artist, chose to start a gallery in Antioch. She and her husband, Dan, have put both feet into their store and into the community.

"I love being in downtown Antioch," Sills said. "I couldn't be happier."

Sills said opening a gallery has given her an opportunity to meet her customers and have more time to get to know them.

"It's twofold. They get a chance to meet the artist and I get to know more about them," Betty said.

One thing that is hard to miss is the 350 limited edition lithographs of paintings, many of them depicting angels or little children. Some of the them fit a certain theme as well.

"I can display at least one of everything," Betty noted. "The art shows are too limited."

One of the striking things one notices is the prices. The paintings range from $9.95 to $39.95.

Her husband, Dan, provides the business expertise and does all the framing. He also is active in the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

In November, the Sills held a mixer and about 200 people came.

Dan noted the clientele is spreading. When the gallery was first opened, most of the customers were people from Rockford and Milwaukee who were familiar with Betty's work through art shows.

"Now we are getting more people from the area coming in," Dan Sills said.

Betty added she thought most of her painting would be done at their home on Channel Lake.

"I thought I wouldn't want to leave the lake but I love coming to the downtown," she said.

Young trombonist remembered

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

An Antioch High School senior who lost his life is being remembered for zeal he had for life.

Joseph Rogers, 18, of Antioch died from heart failure after a game of tag, Dec. 21, at a friend's house in Lindenhurst. Weber was diagnosed with a heart problem at the age of 13.

"He was told to cut back his activities and not play trombone," said Amanda Miller, friend and fellow Antioch High School jazz band member.

Miller said Weber was not one to slow down and take it easy.

"He made a decision to life live and play the trombone," Miller said.

Weber was briefly revived by a friend but was unable to be saved. He died at St. Therese Medical Center.

He was also a member of the marching band and performed in the Madrigal Concert.

He was a member of the Auto Body program at Lake County Technological campus. He had placed eleventh in a state competition.

Rogers worked in the summer at Chandler's Sport and Bait Shop in Van Patten Woods.

He is survived by his parents Michael and Cindy Rogers, his sister Kate Rogers, his maternal grandmother "Bang" Beemer of Bristol, his paternal grandparents, William Rogers of Las Vegas and

Rogers

Eleanor Rogers of Oro Valley, Ariz.

Those desiring may make contributions to the music program at Antioch Community High School.

Northwest corner next business frontier

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Northwest Lake County is right in the path of future commercial development.

Subscribing to that theory is Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk. Baumunk feels the residential growth the area has been experiencing will soon translate into commercial growth as well.

"As commercial developers keep telling me, commercial growth is driven by rooftops," Baumunk said. "We have the rooftops."

He was referring to Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst areas which are beginning to feel a residential building surge which is likely to continue.

"We have the open land they are searching for," Baumunk said.

He added some businesses are interested in leaving congested communities and heading west.

"Businesses are interested in moving west of the tollway to areas where people are moving in," Baumunk said.

He hopes Lindenhurst in the next few years concentrates solely on business development.

"I would hope we could be residential development on the back burner and concentrate on business development and commercial ventures," Baumunk said.

The village is expected to approve the final plans for the first industrial park in the village's history. The park will be located just north of the intersection of routes 45 and 132.

Lake Villa's industrial park, Park Place is continuing to add tenants. More businesses are expected to come to town with the new North Central Service Line Metra passenger service. The train benefits extend to Antioch which also saw a resurgence in small businesses in its downtown area.

Library Briefs

Ask a Night Owl

Late Night bets? Scrabble disputes? Paper due the day before the library opens? The Antioch Public Library has contracted with the Night Owl Reference Service to provide reference assistance during the hours the library is closed. When you call the library from 9 p.m.-midnight, Monday-Friday and 5 p.m.-midnight, Saturday and Sunday, you will be automatically transferred to Night Owl Reference Service where you will receive assistance.

Friends need a leader

Friends of the Library are in need of leadership. Gail Rasmussen, president since 1991, is stepping down. If no one steps in to be president, the group will disband. The Friends is a volunteer group dedicated to supporting the library primarily through volunteer work and fund-raising. The Friends have conducted book sales which are great fund-raisers for the library. If you are interested in leading the Friends call Kathy LaBuda, library director, 395-0874 for more details.

Police Beat

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

Arrested for possession

Joseph Gray, 27, 809 Grace, Lake Villa, on Dec. 22, was arrested for possession of marijuana and two outstanding warrants. He was a passenger in a car stopped for a traffic violation. A check of his license revealed he had two outstanding DUI charges and police found a baggy containing a green leafy substance believed to be marijuana in his pocket.

Arrested for DUI

Dennis Carberry, 44, 45205 St. Thomas Colony, Fox Lake, on Dec. 20, was arrested for driving with under the influence. He was stopped for a driving infraction. He failed field sobriety tests and refused a breath test.

Arrested for disorderly conduct

William Pflaum, 407 Poplar, Antioch, on Dec. 24, was arrested for disorderly conduct. Police were called because he was allegedly yelling obscenities loudly in his apartment. He refused to answer the door when police arrived until after police repeatedly knocked on his door. He was then arrested.

Jason Schine, 21, of McHenry, and Nelson Flackus III, 317 Montello Colony, Fox Lake, on Dec. 22, were arrested for disorderly conduct. The officer saw five people fighting in the Waterfalls parking lot. He caught Schine and Flackus was found later.

LAKE VILLA

Arrested for DUI

Jeffrey Ward, 19, 386 Lake Street, Antioch, on Dec. 20, was arrested for driving under the influence and driving in the wrong lane and failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident. The officer came to a scene of a four-vehicle accident. He encountered a Round Lake Beach police officer who was following Ward when he was forced off the road by Ward.

LINDENHURST

Arrested on weapons charge

Brandon Chesser, 18350 Linda, Gurnee, on Dec. 22, was arrested for unlawful use of weapon. He was driving a friend's car and was stopped by police. They found an air gun in the car and arrested him. It was later found the weapon wasn't Chesser and he was charged with the local ordinance.

GRAYSLAKE

Drug arrests

Charles P. Jackson, 17, of Waukegan was charged Dec. 23, at approximately 6:50 p.m. for possession of cannabis. Jackson was arrested in the 1900 block of Country Drive after an officer observed him for some time. He was released on bond. In connection with the same incident Henry A. Enriques 19, of Gurnee was charged with possession of cannabis, possession of cannabis with the intent to deliver and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Harold Lemke III 23, of Grayslake was arrested at the intersection of Harvey Ave. and Alleghany road Dec. 24 at 1:52 a.m. He was charged with possession of cannabis. The driver of the vehicle Larry A. Janke of Lindenhurst was arrested for driving under the influence on private property.

Seay Michael Hubbard 17, of Park City was arrested at Lake St. and Route 83 Dec. 24 after being stopped for a traffic violation at approximately 10 p.m. He was charged with felony possession of a controlled substance, possession of cannabis and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Accident proves ice too thin

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Just ask the three snowmobilers who fell through the ice on Lake Marie how safe the ice is.

While all three only suffered minor injuries during the Dec. 26 incident, it does underscore how unsafe ice conditions are. Cpt. Rich Frankson of the Antioch Fire Department strongly warns people not to venture out on thin ice.

"People should not be on the ice," Frankson said. "We have not had a good freeze yet."

He said the temptation is to go out on the ice after a snowfall.

"They get the bug and take the snowmobile out. They think the ice is safe but it isn't," Frankson said.

One particular area where the ice is thinnest is in the channels where the waters moves faster and takes more time to freeze.

Falling through the ice were Paul Clark, 26, of Lindenhurst, Jamie Moats, 25 of Wisconsin and Leonard Cohen of Fox Lake.

Around 10 p.m., friends were riding and Clark saw Moats' snowmobile go in the water.

They used an extension cord to extricate Moats from the water. He was taken to TJ's Resort where paramedics took him to an area hospital.

Cohen had also fallen in. He was able to get out and crawl to a home. He didn't need medical assistance.

Frankson noted no one has been seriously injured or killed by falling through the ice this year. It's still an uncomfortable and scary experience.

"They get cold and hypothermic," Frankson mentioned of what typically happens with people fall through the ice.

With warmer temperatures projected for the end of the week, it even makes more sense to staff off lakes and rivers.

"Water freezes at 32 degrees. If it's in the 40s that's enough to tell me it's not safe," Frankson said.

Mall's hats off policy challenged

Gurnee Police believe it is generally a good concept for public places to have no-hat wearing policies.

"It has worked very well. Normally when a security guard or officer asks someone to reposition one's hat to enforce rules, they do so and say 'thank you'," Gurnee Deputy Police Chief Hank Schwarz said.

That normal course of events did not occur Dec. 24 at Gurnee Mills. The incident led to charges being filed against two adults who have a Jan. 23 court date in Waukegan.

Valescia Pennington, age 33, of Milwaukee was charged with battery and resisting arrest. Sherre Womack, age 27, of Fort Sheridan, was charged with disorderly conduct, obstruction of justice and misdemeanor mob action.

"Gurnee Mills is private property and they have rules. They can ask you to behave in a certain manner and if you do not, they can ask you to leave or call the police, which they did in this case," Schwarz said.

Gurnee police state security personnel asked in a polite way that the defendants reposition their hats according to mall policy. The defendants refused and an altercation took place. At one point, a Gurnee police officer was grabbed but later freed himself.

The incident took place near the Grange Hall area of the mall.

A juvenile who was involved was turned over to his mother's custody. The other two were released.

Answers on pond death wait for inquiry

An inquest into the death of Antonio Contreras, who was found near a pond in the Diamond Lake area Dec. 21, is expected to be scheduled toward the end of January, said a spokeswoman at the Lake County Coroner's Office. At that time, toxicology reports will indicate the blood alcohol level of the victim at the time of the incident.

Contreras, 26, was reported to have left the home of a friend around 12:30 a.m. with the intention of going to a bar. Witnesses said he was already quite intoxicated at that time.

Authorities concluded that Contreras attempted to cross the pond near the 1700 block of Diamond Lake Rd. and fell in the center, where a water pump keeps the ice from forming to provide a refuge for wildlife. The depth of the pond in the center is about 12 feet. Contreras apparently managed to crawl out but fell in again as he tried to make his way to shore. Footprints indicate he may have been disoriented.

He made it to a nearby access road, where he was discovered around 8 a.m. the following morning. Authorities determined the abrasions and bruises on the victim were from the fall and his attempts to climb out. Autopsy results have indicated the cause of death was hypothermia.—

STAFF REPORT

Wisconsin family escapes motor home fire

A fire in a motor home halted plans for a Wisconsin family to move south.

Gurnee Fire Department reports some $8,000 in damage was done to a 1978 motor home. The contents included all of the family's possessions and totaled $10,000.

"The family of three was moving from Wisconsin to Florida," Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath said.

The vehicle was so involved with smoke and fire when firemen arrived at 4:30 a.m., Dec.

27, they assumed it was a van.

The gas tank on the motor home ruptured.

"Fortunately, there were no injuries," McGrath said.

Firemen were able to recover a family photo album and tried to return it to the Slinger, Wis. family.

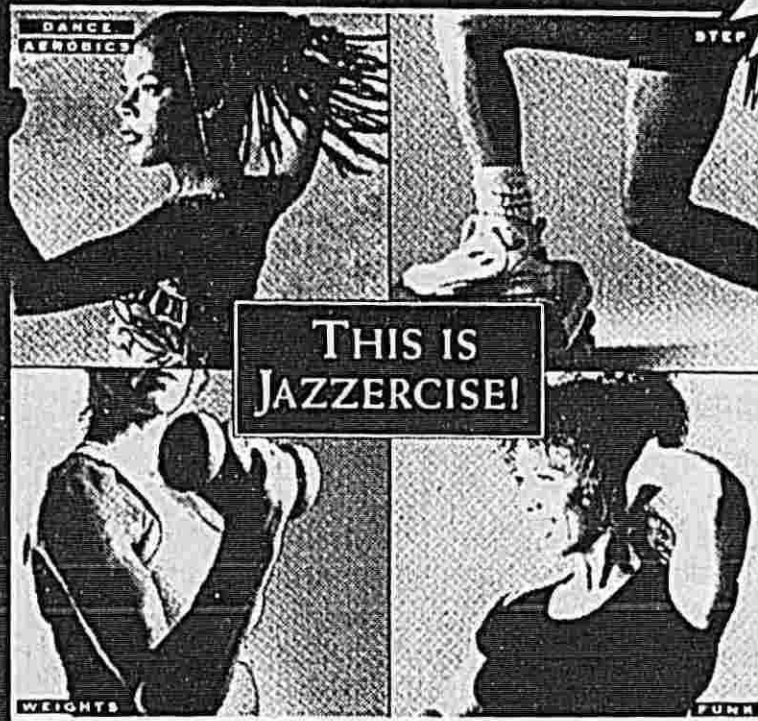

The cause of the fire could not be determined.

In other calls:

An 18-year old male was transported to St. Therese Medical Center with minor injuries after his vehicle slid into a ditch off Rte. 120 near Wildwood on Dec. 26.

A fire in a deep fryer at 6577 Rte. 132 in Gurnee Dec. 25 caused some $100 damage.

COURAGE plans fun winter events

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

The winter may be chilling the bone, but a community based anti-gang organization has activities to warm the heart.

Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE) is preparing events ranging from game nights to sledding and a ski trip to name a few.

To get the ball rolling, there will be a planning session and game night, Jan. 2, from 6:30 to 8 p.m..

On Feb. 8, and 9 the group will travel to Devil's Head Resort in Merrimac, Wis. for a ski trip and leadership conference. A deposit must be paid by Jan. 17 and the full amount is due Monday, Feb. 2.

On Saturday, Jan. 18, a teen lock-in is planned at Antioch High School from 8 p.m.-7 a.m..

Prepare for the snow with a sledding night, Thursday, Jan. 23 from 6:30-9 p.m.. Admission is $4; drop off and pick up is at the Lindenhurst Village Hall.

COURAGE members will try their hand at Yahtzee when they visit with seniors at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center on Feb. 6.

For the most romantic day of the year, Valentines Day, COURAGE is planning a dance for grades 6-12. Admission is $2. Time and location will be announced later.

On Feb. 20, there will be a great snowball fight, weather permitting. If there is no snow, it will be a games night at Lindenhurst Village Hall 6:30-9 p.m..

COURAGE believes in thwarting gang activity through education, prevention and intervention. The group also feels it's necessary to provide youth with positive alternatives to gangs and other unhealthy influences.

The teen group meets almost weekly during the school year. The general membership meets once every two months. COURAGE welcomes all people who reside in Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

SkiFest '97 brings fun to Forest Preserves

Enjoy a winter afternoon of cross-country skiing at Skifest '97 on Sunday, Jan. 12, from noon to 4 p.m., at Wright Woods Forest Preserve near Lincolnshire.

Join members of the Lake County Forest Preserves' Des Plaines River Nordic Ski Patrol; for equipment demonstrations, "free" cross-country skiing lessons, fun races and games, a winter clothing clinic and information about how you can help the Ski Patrol keep your Forest Preserves safe in the winter. Warm up with "free" hot cocoa and refreshments after the activities. The event will take place with or without snow.

A limited equipment supply will be available. Participants are encouraged to bring their own equipment or rent skis for the day at an outdoor outfitter such as Erewhon in Bannockburn or REI in Niles.

SkiFest '97 is designed to encourage first-time cross-country skiers to learn the basics while more advanced skiers will enjoy the races and demonstrations. Forest Preserve staff will also be on hand to provide information about upcoming cross-country skiing programs.

The Nordic Ski Patrol is a volunteer organization that assists the Lake County Forest Preserves in monitoring its cross country-skiing trails for safety throughout the winter.

SkiFest '97 is an annual event organized by SkiFest, Inc., and the National Ski Patrol, in cooperation with the Lake County Forest Preserves. The celebration takes place at more than 100 sites across the United States and Canada. The Des Plaines River Nordic Ski Patrol is a member of the National Ski Patrol.

Wright Woods is located at the intersection of Everett and St. Mary's Roads, just south of Route 60 near Lincolnshire. For more information on event activities or for a "free" copy of the Forest Preserve's Map and Guide, and a packet of Trail Maps, call the Lake County Forest Preserves at 367-6640.

CLC offers class in volunteerism

The concept of volunteering and the responsibilities of volunteers will be the subject of a one-credit-hour course offered by CLC this spring. A day section of "Introduction to Volunteerism" (EWE 121) will be offered from noon to 12:50 p.m. and an evening section from 6 to 7 p.m., both on Mondays beginning Feb. 3 at the Grayslake campus. Students must get written approval from Constance McInay, the coordinator of Cooperative Education, before registering for the class.

Over the 15-week course period, students will attend class meetings, participate in discussions and other activities, attend a Volunteer Fair, choose a volunteer activity with a service agency or organization and volunteer for at least 40 hours.

For information, call McInay at 223-6601, ext. 2423.

Hypnosis workshops to raise money for Heart, Lung Assn.

On Sunday, Jan. 5, the Dreamweaver Hypnosis Center will sponsor two New Year's Resolution hypnosis clinics for people interested in losing weight or giving up smoking in the new year. Both clinics will be held at the Lake County Farm Bureau Building located at 70 S. Hwy. 45 in Grayslake. The Natural Weight Loss program runs from 1 to 3 p.m. and the Stop Smoking program runs from 4 to 6 p.m.

The workshops will be conducted by registered hypnotherapists Geoff Akins and Dennis Kedzorski of the International Assn. of Counselors and Therapists. Participants will undergo three separate inductions and learn the skills for using hypnosis to successfully lose weight or stop smoking.

Each participant will receive workshop tools including an audio cassette tape and motivational support materials for use at home. Tuition for each class is a $40 donation, portions of which will be donated to the American Heart and Lung Assn. Visa and Mastercard will be accepted. Participants are encouraged to dress comfortably and bring a pillow to the classes.

Seating is limited so call Geoff Akins at 333-8222 for more information on how to register for these clinics or private sessions.

CLC scholarship for female students

The College of Lake County Chapter of the American Assn. of Women in Community Colleges has established a $600 scholarship for a female student pursuing a one-year certificate of an associate degree program at CLC. The award will apply toward spring 1997 semester tuition, books, fees or child care.

Applicants must be new or continuing students enrolled for at least six credit hours at CLC in the spring semester. Interested students must submit a CLC scholarship application, an unofficial academic transcript and a brief essay describing career goals and financial need. The application deadline is Jan. 10.

Applications are available in the financial aid office, B114. For information, call 223-3610.

Fr. Hanley, retired, but never forgotten

With the retirement of Father Hanley, once again the parish-ioners of St. Peter's, as well as the Antioch community, find themselves bidding a fond farewell to one of their mainstays. The gala retirement event was brimming with tears, laughter, memories and a camaraderie that only a close-knit community such as his practical automobile for a sporty new golf cart, but we have to believe that the thought has crossed his mind. If only he could figure out a way to legally drive a golf cart down Grass Lake Road and into town, the retired Padre just might consider such a whim.

Father has made it quite apparent that he will still remain active at church, only now he will be able to come in, celebrate Mass, pop in over at the Rectory for a cup of coffee and still get out in time to get in a quick nine holes before lunch. As the phone rings and the door bell buzzes, he can sit back in the kitchen, among all the chaos, sipping his coffee while conversing with the various kitchen visitors, perhaps even rustling up a plate of eggs from the cook.

Boy, what a great feeling that is going to be. No more worrying about the trickling plumbing, the faulty electric or the leaky roofs. No more meetings to attend, decisions to make, or conflicts to resolve. Now, if he could finagle a way to keep his parking spot in the Rectory garage instead of having to park in the parking lot like the rest of the guests he would be all set.

So, to Father Hanley who has left his legacy within the Antioch community in all he has managed to accomplish, sustain, and maintain, we bid you a farewell, we will greatly miss your wisdom, your leadership, your guidance, your calm demeanor.

And, as a reminder to all of us, with the re-naming of the St. Peter Social Center, there now stands a building, or at least a piece of building on St. Peter Street that bears your name. It seems fitting that the building is a strong structure on a solid foundation, as has been your presence here with us all these years. It is the part of the parish that has brought all the community together with its auctions, Footlights, and dinners. It is a fitting piece to hold your name as you have been the cornerstone, the pillar of strength within this community for the past 15 years. And now, as you slip off to enjoy your cushy retirement years we can all be assured in the fact that, although you no longer live next to the church, somehow we know its presence is something that will never leave you. Although your favorite four letter word "Amen", will be replaced by a new favorite four letter word, "fore," we are comforted in the fact that your prayers will still get their daily homage, even if it is in just a mutter while whacking that little white ball around. Amen. And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"—don't forget to call 395-6364.

Carmel offers placement exams

A placement exam for the 1997 Freshmen class at Carmel High School will take place on Saturday, Jan. 11. All eighth graders who plan to attend Carmel in the fall of 1997 should come to the school Jan. 11 to take a series of ability and achievement tests. The test results, along with information received from the student's elementary school, will be used by Carmel to schedule the student for next year.

The testing will begin at Carmel at 8:15 a.m. on Jan. 11, and will continue until about 12:30 p.m. No student can be admitted after 8:15 a.m., and no further testing date is planned for later in the year. If illness prevents any student from taking the placement test on Jan. 11, it is necessary that the school be called in order that a place be reserved for the fall of 1997. The school's number is 566-3000.

Each student must bring a $20 testing fee, and all students are also asked to bring a pen.

Carmel, named a U.S. Dept. of Education Blue Ribbon School, offers a challenging academic curriculum in the areas of business, fine arts, English, mathematics, science, social studies, religion, computer science, driver education, and foreign languages.

Carmel High School is located near the center of Lake County on Route 176 between Libertyville and Mundelein. The school is sponsored by the Sisters of Charity, BVM and the Carmelite Priests and Brothers.

And so, after residing at 557 Lake Street, across from a grocery store for the last 15 years, Father Hanley has finally turned in his Rectory key for a more suitable location on a quiet country road next to a golf course.

Now it hasn't been stated whether or not he will also retire

Rams finish strong at Rockford, lose Bureau

The Grayslake Rams vented their frustrations of losing a key player with a 48-point second half to close out the Rockford Holiday Classic with a lopsided win.

The Rams trounced Fenton 70-44, using a 48-19 run in the second half for a 6-7 overall record in the holiday basketball tournament.

"The key was the players. They were fed up with losing. Since forward Dan Bureau was hurt in the opening minutes of the Rockford Lutheran game, we had been scrambling with substitutes," Rams coach Greg Groth said.

Bureau reinjured an ankle in a 52-50 overtime loss to Lutheran. The team is off until Jan. 10 against Grant and that time will tell on his future. "That was quite a blow. He is the backbone of our defense and we have been 2-4 without him," Groth said.

Kevin O'Neill, a senior, sparked the effort with a 20-point performance against Fenton. Keith Walsh had a second 25-point game of the tourney. Aaron Clark added 8 points.

"We went with a new lineup with Ryan Gilliland playing more and Walsh on the inside against Fenton. Gilliland had 5 points and 8 rebounds," Groth said.

Against Lutheran, the loss came as the Rams committed key fouls down the stretch and missed free throws at their end.

Decatur Eisenhower was the best team in the tournament and used a 27-point fourth period to pull away to a 75-50 win over the Rams. Walsh was held to 9 points.

The first round was a 61-54 loss to Rockford Auburn. Domutz had 16 points but the Rams could not recover from a 15-6 deficit.

"We are 6-7 and in good shape considering we had no center for six games. We have only played two bad games. We have to play better defense like we did early in the season," Groth said.

CHS boys hope win to bring confidence

Carmel High found its way to the boys basketball victory column and is working for more in the East Suburban Catholic Conference clashes to come.

Carmel gained its first win with a 60-48 victory over Lane Tech. That followed a 5-point loss to Timothy Christian and a 57-48 loss to Glenbard North.

"I thought it was pretty positive. The last three games have all been winnable," Carmel coach Ben Berg said.

ACHS girls patience pay off in tourney

Grayslake took a half to adjust to the pressing defense of Antioch, and the 14-point deficit proved too much for the Rams to overcome.

The Rams settled for fourth place at the McHenry girls basketball tournament after the 44-30 loss. The 5-8 squad believes it played some solid basketball getting ready for the all Northwest Suburban Conference portion.

"This was one of our better finishes at McHenry. We got to play against teams from different leagues such as Byron," Rams coach Bobbette Byrne said.

"They pressed us and played an aggressive defense and we panicked. The second half we were more relaxed," Byrne added.

"We had real good pressure in the first and second quarters. We did not do as much in the third, until we regained our intensity," ACHS coach Dave Woods said.

Kelly Strysick, a sophomore, scored 9 fourth-quarter points for Antioch.

"We wanted to take a lot of time off the clock every possession and make them play defense. We ran them through a maze of screens with constant motion. Kelly was the person who was open. She showed a lot of patience for a sophomore and kept Jenny Wessel off the boards," Woods said. "Kelly was a pleasant surprise.

Carrie Gofron led the winners with 11 points.

Rams' freshman Wessel had 14 points, all in the second half and Laura Mendralla had 8 against the Sequoits.

The Rams trailed 22-2 early, 22-8 at half-time. They cut the gap to 7 points in the third period before Antioch pulled away.

The Rams were 1-2 in the tourney, beating Geneva but losing to Byron and Antioch.

This marked the third straight year ACHS gained third place at McHenry.

The NWSC schedule resumes when the 3-2 Rams host Marian Central Jan. 7.

ACHS, 6-7 overall, should be proud of its progress on defense, Woods said. The Sequoits received some bad news when soph Angela Bailey's family moved from the district over the holidays.

"Due to her Dad's transfer, we will probably finish the year with eight players," Woods said.

ACHS hosts Zion-Benton Jan. 7.

Antioch gains consolation from tourney efforts

Gaining quality wins against a wide variety of opponents is the main ingredient Antioch High's basketball squad took back from Rockford's holiday tournament.

The Sequoits' highlights included a 52-47 win over Rockford Jefferson as well as a 53-31 win over Fenton. ACHS fell in the consolation final, being nipped by Rockford Harlem 45-42.

"It was a fairly successful trip. The Jefferson game we played and won with mental toughness. We did not let their pressure get to us and we countered by making some good decisions," ACHS coach Jeff Dresser said.

The Sequoits emerged from Rockford 6-6 with a non-conference game at Downers Grove North the next test Jan. 4.

Dave Gooch had 13 points, Kevin Chudd 9 and Don Lackey 9 in the win over the Fenton squad. Against Jefferson, Mike Nielsen scored 14 points and Chris Groth had 12 with a pair of three-point baskets.

"We adjusted to what Rockford Jefferson was doing. We got a lot of passes without dribbling against their man-to-man.

Nielsen got open against the defense," Dresser said.

The Sequoits were "in control the whole way. Both teams were sleepwalking the first half - we missed a ton of easy shots," Dresser said. ACHS finished with a 26-9 run in the fourth period.

The first round was a 47-44 loss to Rockford Guilford.

Groth maintained his accuracy from three-point land.

"He likes to take the three, but the others are encouraged to stay within the line," Dresser said.

He said the tournament was a plus for his .500 team.

"We have to work on developing our inside game for the conference. People know we have guys who can shoot from the perimeter," Dresser said.

North Chicago is the first North Suburban foe Jan. 10 at home.

Goalie Leitza leads St. Cloud team

A Lake Villa resident is a member of the St. Cloud University hockey team.

Brian Leitza is a goalie for the Huskies. The squad was 7-3-2 overall and 5-3-2 in the Western Collegiate Hockey Assn.

A 1992 graduate of Antioch High, Leitza has a 5-1 record this season. He has allowed just 14 goals this season for a 2.34 goals against average. He is a three-year starter. His career record is 30-35-4 with 238 goals allowed in 71 games played.

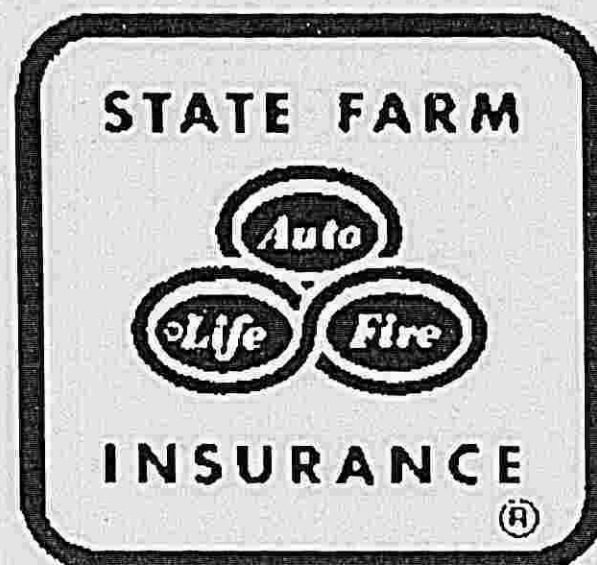

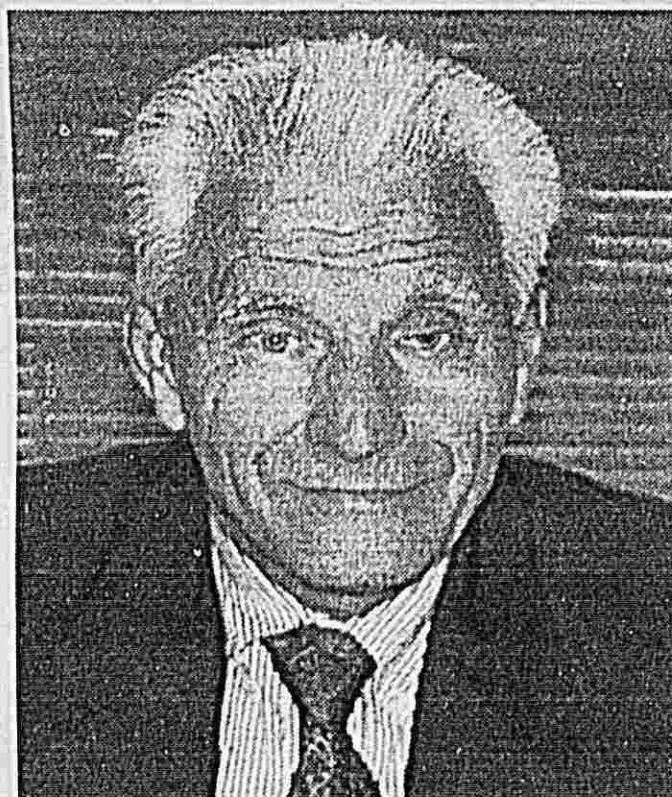

As a freshman, Leitza was named to the WCHA all-rookie team and last season he recorded a 4-0 shutout against Denver University. The shutout was timely as it helped the St. Cloud, MN team advance to the final five.

Kaleidoscope of pencils

Colored pencil artists find convenient, therapeutic hobby

For Midge Saidel, having an inspiring idea for the latest drawing with colored pencil can be more therapeutic than any treatment she has received for her cancer.

"My work with colored pencils came about during my treatment for chemotherapy and radiation. I expressed my feeling in "Chemo Magic" and "Vision of the Future." "Vision of the Future" came when I thought chemotherapy was going to be my hero; I used bright colors. In the second work, I pictured my tissues healing," Saidel said.

Saidel is quick to praise the compassion of colored pencil society members. "They are wonderful, just wonderful. I have gained a wealth of knowledge. There is nothing a chapter member would not do to help someone," she said.

"We exchange a lot of tips at meetings and workshops," she said.

Paper is used as the backdrop to the media. Beginners find that the hobby is beneficial because there is no clean-up; it is non-toxic and you can stop working and there will be no negative effect on the piece. Most work begins with Prisma Berol colors while more advanced artists can use up to 100 colored pencils for one idea.

"I work on more than one piece at a time. That way, I find you don't have the letdown the same way you have if you finish a book," Saidel, of Long Grove, said.

Saidel carries a case of colored pencils.

"It seems to be gaining even more in popularity," Saidel said.

Saidel was interested in art in high school and college.

After raising a family of three, she went back to the Chicago Art Institute to gain her bachelor of fine arts. "I learned how to create my own work and gain self-confidence," she said.

Sue Brooks, president of the Colored Pencil Society of America's Chicago chapter, learned about the fledgling group at a workshop.

"It is a tremendous outlet for (Saidel) now. It is very therapeutic working through the emotional and physical challenge," Brooks said.

Gurnee resident Priscilla Humay is the society's program director.

"I did not know about the society until I saw something in a calendar magazine because I had a piece of work at a Cleveland show. I found out about the Chicago chapter and got excited about it," Humay said.

Humay, who uses other media as well to express her art creativity, said she found the media "as a fluke. I was working with water colors, but before shows was always worried about something happening to the painting. With colored pencils, you don't have to worry," she said.

"We are the Rodney Dangerfield of the art world. We are going through what water colored artists and pastel artists did to gain respect. I am appalled at some of the close-mindedness of some in the art world. Others say colored pencil artwork is fantastic and it does not matter what you use. The acceptance is growing," Brooks said.

Brooks and Humay both have been with the Chicago chapter for about two years.

The home of colored pencil drawings is the northwest, but the Chicago area is gaining quickly. The membership has increased from 13 to 85. Brooks said she was proud of the chapter's work shown at a national convention.

One of the works shown was "Broken Pottery" by Jody Bennett of Grayslake. She has been interested in the art for a dozen years.

Orchestra Hall presents 'Bugs Bunny on Broadway'

For one spectacular weekend, the most beloved cartoon character of the last 50 years will be presiding at Orchestra Hall in "Bugs Bunny on Broadway," presented by Warner Bros. Fun for the young at heart and those who are still a little looney, "Bugs Bunny on Broadway" showcases the best of the classic Warner Bros. cartoons, along with their inspired musical scores played by a live symphony orchestra. "Bugs Bunny on Broadway" will be presented at Orchestra Hall on Friday, Jan. 3 at 8 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 4 at 3 and 8 p.m.; and Sunday, Jan. 5 at 3 and 7:30 p.m.

Conducted and created by George Daugherty, this fantastic collection of the best of "that wacky wabbit" including "The Rabbit of Seville" (1950), "Baton Bunny" (1959), and "What's Opera, Doc?" (1957); among many others, will be projected on a screen while a live symphony orchestra provides the musical accompaniment.

The musical scores, written by Carl Stalling and Milt Franklyn and adapted from works by such composers as Liszt, Wagner and Rossini will be performed live in precise synchronization with the cartoons and the remastered voices of Mel Blanc and Arthur Q. Bryan, as well as the original cartoon sound effects.

Tickets are $15 to $53; box seats are $75. For further information, call (312)294-3040.

Cooking for kids

Lake Forester Linda Hegg will teach a series of cooking classes especially for kids ages 8 to 13 at Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest. Safety, cleanliness, and nutrition will be emphasized.

"Warm Dinner for Cold Nights" will be held on Thursday, Jan. 23 from 4 to 5:30 p.m., with a fee of $12. Students will learn to cook easy, one-pot meals such as chili, sloppy joes, and a chicken skillet dish with potatoes.

Interested participants should register and be paid in advance. For information, call 234-6060.

Theater workshop

Watch out Macaulay Culkin the Barrington Area Arts Council is offering young actors and actresses the opportunity to enhance their theatrical skills in their Children's Winter Theater Workshop. For six weeks the children will participate in discussions, theater games and creative projects.

Irene Colson, a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan Univ. with a BFA in performance, will direct this workshop. Colson has been involved with many theater groups including the Pullman Players and Music on Stage. She is a founding member of Caboose Children's Theater and has worked on publicity for Northbrook Theater Guild.

Colson takes her inspiration from the Aristotle's poetics. In the course of the workshop she will introduce the elements of drama such as scenery, spectacle, character and plot. The workshop will take place at the BAAC Gallery on six consecutive Saturdays beginning Jan. 11 and ending Feb. 15.

Session I is for children in grades third through fifth and will be held from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Session II is for grades sixth through eighth and the time is 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The cost is $60 per student for BAAC members and $70 for non-members. For reservations call the BAAC Gallery at 382-5626. —by ROSELLE LOVE

New Year's resolutions to understanding children's behavior

Hi everyone and happy holidays! The holiday season has slowed down the letters, so for this week, I'd like to give parents a little bit of insight into some great New Year's Resolutions for understanding kid's behavior. What does it actually take to be a good parent? What does it take to launch our kids into the adult world successfully and with as few battlescars as possible? I think it takes a lot of different things. Here are some: (From Dr. Singer's "Why Time Out Doesn't Work." Copyright 1995, 1996.)

- Knowing what is normal behavior for kids.
- Knowing what is normal behavior for you.
- Having a plan and being prepared ahead of time.
- Knowing that it takes a combination of structure, limits, expectations, love, nurturing and family.
- Realizing that what you call a stage now, may become a permanent problem if you don't act to change it.
- Holding to and teaching our ideals.
- Understanding that appropriate discipline is not abuse.
- Understanding that self-discipline is learned from discipline learned in childhood at home.

plined in childhood at home. • Knowing not to bring down the standards to the kid, but encourage the kid up to the standards. • Expecting and encouraging our kids to be the best they can be.

Kids can be wonderful but also are very directed at what they want! Anyone whose been around them knows that!

To start off '97 with the right frame of mind on guiding kids to the right decisions, I have included a little section from the end of my book. It may boggle the mind, but I jest you not....I have actually heard these things said by many kids.

Folks, these are actual things I have heard children say in my office. Remember, children, like us, look to make their surroundings as profitable and comfortable as possible. Children are true capitalists at heart and will do whatever is necessary to get what they want. While there is nothing wrong with capitalism and earning things, manipulating to get them is not a good habit. Please understand that with the kids I've seen both in my office and my personal life, reasoning, insight and explanations of why it is wrong to do these things does not seem to work until the child is about 28. When it costs something (privileges) is when behavior changes.

Spoken or unspoken rules of being a child

- "Everything belongs to me!"
- "In a store, you (my parent) will buy me what I want!"
- "The louder I scream, the quicker you'll give in."
- "If I apologize I'll get out of it even if I don't mean it."
- "My parents are pushovers."

- "If I don't get what I want, I'll run away and that will show them." • "If I don't clean up long enough, you'll just get tired of reminding me and you'll clean it up and I'll get out of it."

Spoken or unspoken rules of being a parent

- "I love you too much to let your attempted negotiating on my rules happen!"
- "You can scream your little heart out about not getting your way. If I give in to your screaming, you'll scream every time you want something from me and others later!"
- "You will follow the rules and clean up your room or you will lose privileges!"
- "I will never get tired of seeing to it that you learn rules and consequences because I care about you and want you to have a good future!" • "Apologies are nice, but good behavior is better!" • "If you threaten to run away, I'll be watching you closer than you'll like!" • "I will not be a pushover for your sake!"

Tickets to all performances are $33, senior and student discounts available. For further ticket information, call 634-0200.

'The Cure at Troy'

Milwaukee Chamber Theatre continues its season with "The Cure at Troy:

a version of Sophocles' Philoctetes" by Irish poet and playwright Seamus Heaney. "The Cure at Troy" will be directed by James Tasse and opens Jan. 11 and runs through Feb. 2, 1997 in the Studio Theatre of the Broadway Theatre Center, 158 N. Broadway. Tickets range from $22 to $7 and are available at the Broadway Theatre Center Box Office or by calling (414)291-7800.

'Legends in Concert'

The Fireside Restaurant and Playhouse in Fort Atkinson presents an exclusive Midwest engagement, direct from Las Vegas, of John Stuart's Award Winning "Legends in Concert." The Fireside's production features live recreations of Buddy Holly, Reba McEntyre, Marilyn Monroe, The Blues Brothers, Neil Diamond, Judy Garland, and the king himself—Elvis!

Legends in Concert will run from Jan. 3 through March 16 with 10 performances weekly Wednesday through Sunday. A Las Vegas style Casino Buffet is served prior to each performance. For tickets call 1(800)477-9505.

'A Chorus Line'

Actors Theatre of Glencoe, a newly formed community theatre group, presents "A Chorus Line" at 8 p.m. on Jan. 17, 18, 24, 25 and 26 at Misner Auditorium, 620 Greenwood, Glencoe. The show is directed by Marlon Barden; Gretchen Witte Glader is the choreographer, and Jack Cameron is music director. A special opening night event features a raffle for round trip plane tickets for two anywhere in the United States. Tickets are $12 at the door, $10 in advance, and $15 opening night (raffle ticket included). Call 604-2100.

'Patty O'Shea'

Open tryouts for young actors in grades sixth through tenth, Jan. 8 and 9 at 4 p.m. at the Northbrook Theatre, 3323 Walters Ave., Northbrook. All who audition must have a prepared song with sheet music and participate in a reading from the script as well as a dance tryout.

Also, all possible rehearsal conflicts must be turned in on the day of auditions. Performances begin March 1 and run on Saturdays and Sundays through March 23. Rehearsals are twice a week; 4 to 6 p.m. on weekdays (Mondays, Thursdays, or Fridays) and 2 to 6 p.m. on Sundays. For more information call the performing arts office at 291-2367.

'The Stonecutter'

The fable "The Stonecutter" will be the focus of the drama class at the David Adler Cultural Center during the upcoming winter session. Beginning in January for nine weeks, students will meet twice weekly to design, stage, and produce the play under the direction of Margaret Shultz. The Center is located at 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville. Class size is limited. For more information or a class brochure call, 467-0707.

'Man From Atlanta'

"The Young Man From Atlanta," Horton Foote's 1995 Pulitzer Prize-winning play, will open on the Goodman Mainstage Jan. 27 in a production staged by Goodman Artistic Director Robert Falls starring Shirley Knight and Rip Torn.

"The Young Man From Atlanta: is set in 1950s Houston, "the best city in the best country in the world," according to Will Kidder. Kidder, a self-made man who prides himself on having the best of everything, has just built a lavish new house. It's as much a reward for his 40 years of hard work as it is a distraction for his wife Lily Dale, who can't come to terms with the death of their only child. But when Kidder is let go by his company, their faith in the American Dream begins to crumble and the truth about their son's death threatens to tear them apart.

"The Young Man From Atlanta" will appear on the Goodman

Mainstage Friday, Jan. 17 through Saturday, March 1. Tickets range from $26 to $39 and are available by calling (312)443-3800.

Music

Auditions

The Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations of Metropolitan Chicago Program Service Dept. invites vocalists, musicians, book reviewers, dancers, lecturers, speakers, and dramatists to apply for its preliminary audition. An umbrella organization made up of 300 constituent women's organizations, the Conference showcases as wide an array of talent as possible to the member organizations, while presenting a platform to the rising, new and changing talent on the Chicago scene.

The preliminary audition will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 15 at Temple Shalom, 3480 N. Lake Shore Dr., Chicago. For an application to appear at the preliminary audition call Goldie Solganick at (773)281-7419.

Welsh male chorus

Black Mountain Male Chorus from Wales will perform at Waukegan High School auditorium on Jan. 5 at 3 p.m. under sponsorship of Lake County Community Concert Assn. Subscriptions for this and the remaining two concerts in the series are available at $35 for adults, $15 for students, and $90 for families. They can be purchased at the door or by calling Donna Fortney at 244-7465.

Wales has been called "a land of song; a nation of singers." It is said, "A Welshman sings when others would pray or cry." The tradition of male chorus singing in Wales is old and proud. Nearly 200 communities have their own male choruses. The Black Mountain Male Chorus is "the best of the best" 40 men handpicked by the director, Dr. Alun John, from choruses throughout Wales. ## MAUI'S BEST BEACH

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

In the early 1970's you were likely to find the Rolling Stones jamming here. Elton John was also known to hangout on this, the most beautiful beach on Maui, if not all of Hawaii. No, I'm not talking about Kaanapali with its wall to wall hotels. You know me better than that.

This breathtakingly beautiful stretch of white sand is called Makena Beach, though the locals just call it "Big Beach". (There is also a "Little Beach" I'll tell you about later). As yet the building cranes, often called Maui's state bird, have not desecrated this last remaining piece of paradise. In fact, you will have to find an unmarked dirt road to get to Big Beach. If you promise not to tell anyone, I'll give you directions.

From Wallea Village on Maui's south shore, head East about four miles. You will pass the new Maui Prince Resort. Keep going and the road will get very narrow. You will come to some small, but very steep hills marked with "No sight" warning signs. Immediately past the third "No sight" sign is a dirt road. Turn right for a couple of hundred yards and you're at Big Beach.

That island across the channel is Molokini, a half-sunken volcanic crater. It's very popular for snorkeling trips, since it is a marine sanctuary with coral gardens and thousands of reef fish that will eat from your hand.

To your right is a cinder cone known as "Red Hill". If it's whale watch season (November to about May), you've got an excellent chance of a sighting from this view point. Arrive near sunset and, if you don't see a whale, you will experience a spectacular sunset!

By the way, on the other side of Red Hill is "Little Beach". You may experience a sighting or two there, also, as this is a favorite nude beach.

For those preferring something a little closer to civilization, the beach in front of the Maui Prince is, as all beaches in Hawaii, open to the public. To get to it, turn right just past the Maui Prince on to a road that will immediately become dirt. Continue along past the front of this Maui Prince and you will find a parking area complete with restrooms. You're right across from a church built in 1832 which still holds services in Hawaiian every Sunday at 11:00 a.m.

The Osborne Brothers

Osborne Brothers

Ever since joining the Grand Ole Opry in 1964, the Osborne Brothers have reigned as one of America's most popular bluegrass bands, and they will be making their fifth appearance at The Woodstock Opera House on Saturday, Jan. 11 for a 4:30 and 8 p.m. show. Even among people who have little experience or familiarity with bluegrass music, the name of the Osborne Brothers or their best known song, "Rocky Top," is likely to be familiar.

The core of their band consists of Bobby Osborne on mandolin and singing the high tenor lead, and Sonny Osborne on banjo and singing baritone, accompanied by acoustic bass, guitar, and fiddle.

Also appearing on the program will be The Lewis Family, America's first and foremost family of bluegrass/gospel music.

The Woodstock Opera House is located at 121 Van Buren St., Woodstock. For ticket information, call (815)338-5300.

Folk music classes

The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville is forming a new group of folk music classes. The 10-week sessions will begin the week of Jan. 14 and run through March 22. Another session will follow in the first week of April.

Besides its usual lineup of guitar, banjo and fiddle classes, the Adler Center is offering "Part Singing" which teaches people to sing by ear in their natural voice. No training or music reading is required for the simple multi-voice songs from a variety of nations and traditions. The class will meet on Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. It will be led by Valerie Mindel.

Other group classes on the schedule include on Thursdays, Guitar for Kids from 4:15 to 5:15 p.m. and intermediate Guitar from 7 to 8 p.m., both taught by Pat Gaughan.

On Fridays, Kathy Casper will teach Beginning Banjo from 6 to 7 p.m. and Intermediate Banjo from 7 to 8 p.m., while Liz Amos will lead Beginning Fiddle from 6 to 7 p.m. Jim Perri's offerings on Saturday include Beginning Guitar from 10 to 11 a.m. and Advanced Guitar from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The DACC Folk Music Program also offers private instruction in guitar, banjo, fiddle, mandolin and hammer dulcimer. To register or for further information, call 367-0707.

Educational concerts

On Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 29 and 30, the Lake Forest Symphony under the direction of Principal Pops Conductor Crafon Beck, will present "Beethoven Lives Upstairs," a delightful 50-minute "symphonic-theater" featuring the life and music of Ludwig von Beethoven. Young people will enjoy 25 musical excerpts magically woven into drama as two actors share anecdotes, stories and observations based on true incidents from the composer's life.

The 9:30 and 10:50 a.m. concerts will be held at Ross Auditorium, Great Lakes Naval Training Center. The concerts are sponsored by private foundations. Admission is $4 for children and $5 for adults. Teachers are free. Deadline for ordering tickets is Jan. 22. "Beethoven Lives Upstairs" is a "Classical Kids Concert" based on the Emmy Award-winning video. For further information call tickets call 295-2135.

PWP orientation

The Lake County Chapter of Parents Without Partners is planning a newcomer orientation and party for Sunday, Jan. 5. All single parents are invited to attend. Prospective members may join at this time or obtain a courtesy card for $5 which entitles them to attend PWP activities for 30 days. Call 265-0833 for information.

Combined Singles

All singles are invited to a Combined Club dance at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 4, at The Barn of Barrington, 1415 Barrington Rd., Barrington. Music will be provided by Music in Motion. The event is co-sponsored by the Northwest Singles Assn., Young Suburban Singles, and Singles and Company. Admission is $6. For more information, call (708)209-2066.

Ace Singles

The Ace Singles invite all singles to a dance at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 8 at the Barn of Barrington Restaurant, 1415 S. Barrington Rd., Barrington. Music will be provided by Music Makers. Admission is $6 which includes a dinner buffet. For more information, call (312)509-5000.

Quilting class

A class in quilting will be offered at Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest. "Quilting: Those Trying Triangles" will be offered beginning Thursday, Jan. 9 from 1 to 3 p.m. The fee for the class is $40. Monica Larson will teach a new method for making triangles during each of the first three classes, and show the variety of possible arrangements at the final class. A supply list will be available upon registration.

Interested participants should register and be paid in advance. For further information, call 234-6060.

Twenty Two on View

The opening reception for an exhibit by a group of 22 artists who have worked together for more than a decade will be Friday, Jan. 10 at 6:30 p.m. at the Suburban Fine Arts Center. The show will include both two and three dimensional works by these artists who worked at the Contemporary Art Center of Arlington Heights before it closed. The Suburban Fine Arts Center is located at 1913 Sheridan Rd. in downtown Highland Park. For more information about this show or classes and workshops call 432-1888.

Winter classes

Take a journey through time

Francy E. Farley, designer and teacher of Needle Arts has received numerous awards. Her award winning pendant, Autumn Jewel was featured in the Jan./Feb., 1994 issue of Piecework Magazine. She specializes in wearable/usable art and multimedia designs.

Her lecture on Jan. 7, will be "Reticules, Pockets and Purses, A Journey Through Time." This is an invitation to walk through time and explore the history and development of one of humankind's earliest and most useful tools, the bag. The tour will begin in the early Middle Ages, and continue through the 18th century, viewing slides of early fashions in clothing and Perou will share her antiques expertise showing slides and presenting handouts. This practical program for the antique novice will teach participants how to examine pieces of furniture with an expert eye, and how to tell the difference between old, new, and reproduction. Perou will also discuss how to buy below retail cost and where to get American antiques throughout metropolitan Chicago.

Participants should call 234-6060 to register.

Madame Abear's psychic heaven for '97

My alter-ego, the ~~psychic~~ psychic Madame Abear, was such a big hit last year with her "Psychic Tips for '96" that she is back for the beginning of the New Year by popular demand (I can't reveal exactly who demanded it—all I can tell you is that she's popular!).

Let me assure you that I have not let my psychic powers go unused throughout the year. Just ask my husband how many times I said "I told you that..." and you will feel confident that my skills have remained sharp.

So, without further fanfare (although fanmail would be appreciated), I am happy to welcome you to Madame Abear's "Psychic Heaven for '97," so named for two reasons: 1. There's no pressure on me to be 100 percent correct, since none of you will remember what I predicted anyway, and 2. Because it rhymes!

Here are my 1997 predictions:

ADVERTISING—1996 will definitely go down as "the year of the six-pack." Two of the most constantly played TV spots included, 1. The commercials with animated frogs in search of a six-pack and, 2. The "Abs" infomercials aimed at gullible consumers in search of a "six-pack" abdomen.

I predict that the exercise folks will try to steal a little thunder with some animation of their own—don't be surprised if next year you see the following infomercial:

A large chubby green frog decides to give up beer and buy an "Abs" exerciser.

Cut to three months later: The frog, who now has a "six-pack" abdomen, saunters over to the pool, where a Barbie doll is sunning on a raft next to a Ken doll. The frog flips over Ken's raft, and picks up Barbie, carrying her off to his personal gym, where he turns into the artist formerly known as "Prince".

DONNA ABEAR

SPORTS—Bulls center Luc Longley will return to playing status in January, but will be benched shortly after due to injuries received while "crowd diving" at a nightclub. Still, the Bulls will win their fifth (yawn) championship anyway, and Dennis Rodman will fall asleep at the rally because he no longer feels "challenged". As for the Chicago Bears ... sorry. No future there.

MOVIES—1997 will be the year of multi-star movies. Hollywood will figure if one star can bring in huge profits for a movie despite lame plots, then more must be better.

And speaking of "more", Demi Moore, Al Pacino, Dustin Hoffman, Mickey Rooney, Gary Coleman, Danny DeVito and two newcomers will star in Disney's live-action version of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Brad Pitt, Tom Cruise, John Travolta and Mel Gibson will break all box office records by appearing together in "So Many Men, So Little Time," a thriller in which four handsome men are stalked by Glenn Close.

POLITICS—I hate to disappoint any of you already-disappointed Republicans (my con-DOLEnces go out to you), but I am predicting that the Clintons will make it through Whitewater with their White House status intact (so you can put away your voodoo dolls now—save them for the next election).

TAXES—Nothing will change (you didn't really believe all those campaign promises, did you?)

TOYS—With "Tickle Me Elmo" having been a runaway success at Christmas, it isn't hard to figure out next year's big hit: "Goose Me Grover."

SPECIAL EVENTS

Teen ski weekend set

The Lake County Family YMCA's Camp Jörn is sponsoring a Teen Ski Weekend at the resident cap facility in northern Wisconsin. Participants will leave at 8 a.m. on Friday, Jan. 17 and return home on Monday, Jan. 20. Lodging will consist of winterized cabins at Camp Jörn and downhill skiing will take place at Powderhorn Mountain Ski resort. Call the YMCA Camp Jörn office at 360-JORN for more information, or to request a registration form.

Poetry reading at Gateways

The longing for a deeper connection to a unique soul-filled experience of life is a universal search. One man's poetic expression of this journey is revealed in the recently published book of poetry, "Shaman's Songs" by Gill Schwartz, MA, B.Div. Drawn along the shaman's path since youth, Schwartz's poetry expresses the marvels of his inner world. His open heart speaks to the realities of life, in poems such as "Night Sea Journey," "Walk of the Spirit," "Endarkenment," "The Source" and "Sacramental Wounding."

On Jan. 10 at 7:30 p.m. Gill Schwartz will host a poetry reading at Gateways to Transformation, 480 Elm Place, Suite 106B, Highland Park. Schwartz will read selections from "Shaman's Songs." For reservations call, 266-1907.

'Hats Off to the New Year'

Salute the new year and celebrate with a "Hats Off to the New Year" luncheon at the Waterfalls restaurant, Rte. 173, Antioch, on Thursday, Jan. 16 at 12:30 p.m. A wonderful collection of hats with a history is waiting for all along with interesting stories and an outstanding presentation by Ainsley Wonderling. Topping off the afternoon will be vocalist, Barb Beetschen singing "Millinery Melodies," and speaker, Pam Santner will not be "Just talking through her hat" as she shares her story of songs from the heart.

Free nursery care will be provided. For reservations call, Pam at 223-6085 or Laurie at 356-1503. Cost of the luncheon is $9.

Zanies times ahead

Appearing at Zanies Comedy Nite Club, 230 Hawthorn Village Commons, Vernon Hills will be Chris Barnes, Frank Calliendo and Mark Schneider Jan. 3 and 4. # —Movie Pick— A 'Fine' romance this is

For lovers of every great romantic comedy since "It Happened One Night" took an Academy Award in the 1930s, "One Fine Day" is another one of the good ones, falling in the same category at those starring Kathryn Hepburn and Spencer Tracy, Doris Day and Rock Hudson and Cary Grant and whomever.

"One Fine Day," stars the incomparably gorgeous and talented Michelle Pfeiffer and TV's equally gorgeous and the most charming man to hit the big screen since Cary Grant, George Clooney.

This may be a "chick" flick, but it's also a great date movie.

You have the harried single mother, Pfeiffer, and a falling apart single father Clooney, sharing a crazy day in New York during which the chemistry between the two fairly explodes from the screen.

Clooney and Pfeiffer do the family thing

There's nothing important here, some of the plot may be improbable, but these two beautiful people make the whole thing a big barrel of fun. Move over "Harry Loves Sally," "Sleepless in Seattle," and "While You Were Sleeping," you've got company!

This is the film that officially makes Clooney a big screen star. We give it 4.5 out of five stars.

Don't miss this PG 13 rated film if good, clean and funny entertainment is your aim.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Cooking by the Book

Discovering a new world: noodles for all occasions

"Asian Noodles," by Nina Simonds (Hearst Books, $25) has a subtitle that speaks volumes: "75 dishes to twist, swirl, slurp and savor."

This food writer provides a smart collection of her favorite noodle recipes, including a helpful reference outlining preparation techniques, use and substitutions.

For the most part, Simonds' instructions are accessible, calling for ingredients readily available from a well-stocked neighborhood grocery. Especially appetizing is the—

Warm garlic beef and cel- lophane noodle salad

1 1/2 lbs. flank steak or London broil, trimmed of fat or gristle

Sesame garlic marinade:
1/2 cup soy sauce
1/3 cup Chinese rice wine or sake

2 Tbls. sugar
10 cloves garlic, peeled and smashed with the flat side of a knife

10 scallions, trimmed and smashed with the flat side of a knife

1 tsp. crushed red pepper
1 tsp. toasted sesame oil

One 3 1/2 oz. package cellophane noodles (bean threads), softened in hot water, cooked until just tender, rinsed under cold water, drained and cut into 3-inch lengths.

1 lb. green beans, trimmed, cut on the diagonal into 2-inch lengths, blanched in boiling water until crisp-tender, refreshed in cold water and drained

1 tsp. safflower or corn oil if pan-searing the beef

3 Tbls. minced scallion greens.

1. Put the steak in a shallow dish. In a saucepan mix the marinade ingredients, bring to boil, reduce heat to low and simmer 5 minutes. Cool slightly; pour over the meat, tossing to coat. Marinate 1 hour at room temperature, or cover to refrigerate overnight.

2. Arrange the noodles on a platter. Put the green beans on top, leaving an indentation in the center. Spoon garlic dressing (recipe follows) over all.

3. Prepare a hot fire in a grill or heat a heavy skillet over high heat. Add the oil to the hot skillet and swirl to coat the surface. Grill the steak 5 to 7 minutes each side for medium-rare, or panfry 4 to 5 minutes each side. Let the meat rest on a cutting board 5 minutes. Cut across the grain into very thin slices.

4. Strain the marinade. Add half to the skillet and boil until it is reduced by half. Add the beef slices and toss slightly to coat. Arrange the slices in the center of the platter and over the beans and sprinkle with scallions greens.

Serves 6

Chinese garlic dressing:

1/4 cup soy sauce
1 Tbls. Japanese rice vinegar

2 Tbls. Chinese rice wine or sake

1 1/2 Tbls. toasted sesame oil

2 Tbls. minced garlic
1 1/2 Tbls. minced fresh ginger

1 Tbl. sugar
1/2 tsp. crushed red pep-

Combine all the ingredients in a bowl and stir to dissolve the sugar. Refrigerated, in a container, the dressing will keep for up to a week.—by TOM WITOM

Winter is for the birds

Here's hoping you had the best of holidays. With winter now in full swing, if you have been feeding out local birdlife please continue as now is the time they need us the most. They do tend to rely on us once we start a feeding regimen. I have noticed quite a few visitors to my garden feeding station; I have seen juncos, chickadees, sparrows, cardinals, blue jays, and have a downy woodpecker that visits the suet ball daily. By the way I did receive a delightful bird book for Christmas.

*Gardener's

by Lydia Huff

Attracting fine feathered friends to your garden is very beneficial as insect eating birds will drastically reduce insect damage to your garden. Need I say more? Beneficial insect eating birds include bluebirds, woodpeckers, juncos, sparrows, purple warblers, blackbirds, chickadees, and purple finches. All of those birds appear in our area.

If you want to enjoy the birds and have room to add plant life in your garden, there are many varieties of plants, shrubs and trees that will attract birds. Most coniferous trees are attractive to insects and thus attract birds also. Among trees are oak, pine, maple, plum, cherry and mulberry trees. Of the shrubs and vines that attract birds are the elderberry, honeysuckle, blackberry, raspberry, and gooseberry bushes.

Birds discern red most easily, and their bills are long enough to reach into a variety of flowers, a "bird flower" is then characteristically red, orange, or purple, tubular and scentless. "Bird flowers" include bee balm, columbine, coralbells, cypress vine, foxglove, poker flower, sage and snapdragon. Among the woody bird flowers: abelia, chilean flame tree, fuchsia, honeysuckle, trumpet vine, and weigelia.

Do use native plants in your garden. Birds tend to avoid non-native species because they fail to attract native insects. And please avoid using pesticides. These may or may not have an effect on humans, but they can be extremely hazardous to the birds.

Happy planting your bird garden. Until next time, peace.

Critic's Choice

'Season's Greetings' offers amusing bit of comic relief

Hollis Resnik, Roger Mueller, and Tony Mockus celebrate Christmas and the usual din and mayhem of the holidays in "Season's Greetings," the comedy hit at Candlelight's Forum Theatre.

The Forum Theatre, well known for the farces it so reliably stages, builds on its reputation with "Season's Greetings," an amusing bit of comic relief from British playwright Alan Ayckbourn. Larry Wyatt directs.

In two acts taking in Christmas Eve to the early morning of Dec. 27, a multitude of events unfold, from a wacky puppet show to an accidental shooting to early-morning assignments under the Christmas tree.

Ayckbourn's story brings together some quirky characters, from a lovable but doltish doctor (Lawrence McCauley) to a straight-talking, trigger-happy, TV-addicted retiree (Tony Mockus) to a somewhat dim-witted tippler (Ami Silvestre).

It stars Hollis Resnik as Belinda, the unhappy but irrepressible housewife who goes crazy for her sister's handsome writer friend (Shawn Douglass). Given her oafish husband (played by Roger Mueller), Belinda's wandering eye comes as no surprise, although Resnik has a tendency to ham up her role a bit.

Rounding out the cast are Jill Shellabarger as the super straight-laced sister, Marnie Cavanaugh as the moody, pregnant sister and Stephen Spencer, her nincompoop of a husband.

"Season's Greetings" is infused with some witty dialogue and bits of hilarious sight gags.

See this fast-paced comedy at 5620 S. Harlem in Summit through Feb. 23.

Horoscope

Aries - March 21/April 20

Cruel to be kind isn't a nice way to play, Aries. It's best to get right to the point. Wise up. Jealousy on the romantic front has had the best of you for weeks. Simmer down. Talk to your mate, and open the doors of communication — especially if it means opening your heart.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Thinking of taking a trip? Do it. Plan the vacation you've always dreamed of. See things you've read about in books up close. Ask a Capricorn friend to join you. Patience at work really pays off on Wednesday. Take a troubled co-worker out to lunch, just to relieve his or her stress.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Never felt at home in the kitchen, Gemini? This week, spend as much time there as you can baking and experimenting on new dishes. Make up some new entrées, and copy some winter recipes from magazines and books. Want to test your skills? Invite that special Libra over for a rare culinary experience.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Exercise is all you need this week, Cancer. When it gets tough at work, schedule time at the gym after hours. When things get hairy at home, don't fight it out; burn off steam in a good aerobic workout. Can't take time away from the kids? Pick up an exercise video, and work out at home.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Home is where the heart is for you this week, Leo. But, you'll probably need more patience than usual. A Gemini family member asks for financial help on Tuesday. Your generous nature makes it hard for you to turn him or her away. But, don't shell out the dough unless you can really afford to.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Thinking of buying a car? Fine. But, don't forget the planning stages. Shop, shop, shop. Read, read, read. Smart consumers know their market. Make a list of your must-haves, and make sure you meet every one before you hand over a check. A Libra offers sound advice.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Romance needs some nurturing. Start throwing some efforts (and understanding) your partner's way. Are you taking too much? Prove that you're not by making this week about him or her. Stop off at a store on a whim to buy him or her an appreciation gift. Write love notes, and make special efforts to show you care.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

It's time to get motivated, Scorpio. If you can't make time for exercise on your own, join a team, and let others do the motivating for you. Family needs you to take on a little more than your share of domestic chores this week. Do them happily without a negative attitude.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Have you been feeling up to par lately? It's a good time to check things out. Make an appointment for a checkup with your doctor just to make sure things are OK. Remember what they say about an ounce of prevention. Celebrate with a road trip over the weekend.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't let your priorities get mixed up this week, Capricorn. Stick to your schedule. Work takes most of your time early in the week, but don't let it get you down. An old friend invites you to a party Saturday. Accept. Check your calendar carefully for family birthdays this week, or you could hurt someone who's sensitive.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Don't let work get you down this week. Put 100 percent into your job, but remember that's not all there is to living. Don't let career-hungry work mates sidetrack your positive thinking. A Leo calls on your problem-solving nature Tuesday. Give him or her your utmost patience.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

It's a good week to concentrate on making some extra cash. Forget about overtime at the office, and start finding ways to make your hobbies lead you to financial gain. An old flame calls you on Wednesday and is looking to get back in your good graces. Proceed with caution.

CLC Jazz Ensemble to perform at international conference

The College of Lake County Jazz Ensemble has been chosen to perform at the 24th International Association of Jazz Educator's annual conference at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Chicago, Jan. 9 through 11.

The conference, held in different cities throughout the country each year, is the largest gathering of professional and school jazz groups in the world.

"It is quite an honor to be selected to perform at this prestigious event," said Bruce Mack, director of the CLC Jazz Ensemble.

The CLC jazz band was chosen through a tape audition last spring, Mack noted.

The Jazz Ensemble recently earned several awards at the Skyway Jazz Festival held at Oakton Community College. They included section awards in trumpet, saxophone and rhythm. CLC has started a second jazz ensemble in the fall semester.

Both jazz ensembles will perform with jazz great Maynard Ferguson and Big Bop Nouveau in the new Performing Arts Building in April.

"A friend of mine suggested I give it a try," Bennett said. "It is a hobby."

There are many different kinds of paper which can be used.

Other Lake County artists with work on display included Saidel and Marion Orlando of Mundelein.

Bennett said her membership in the Colored Pencil Society of America has been worthwhile.

"They have a lot of speakers and activities and you can get critiques of everyone's work," she said.

"This is not an expensive hobby; the most expensive part is getting it framed," Bennett said.

Humay also had art work on display in Libertyville as well as at College of Lake County.

The club is comprised of every level of artist from students to national award winners and professional artists. It is a volunteer organization in its sixth year.

CPSA is one of 17 district chapters. The Chicago chapter was formed three years ago and has 85 members from midwestern states Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin and Ohio.

The club believes the medium is a growing one and is multifaceted. For more information, call Brooks at 359-7655.

January show features 'Bride for all Seasons'

Every January, spring and summer brides-to-be are, either in the middle of, or are just getting started, planning their wedding.

Whether it's a small family affair, or a big gala on the agenda, most people need a little help when it comes to doing the nuptial exchange properly and with class.

Help is on it's way and on Jan. 19, at the Parkway at the Antioch Golf Course, off of Route 59, north of the village, a wedding show, "A Bride for All Seasons," will be held. The show will be sponsored by the Silk 'N Haz Bridal Salon and Parkway at the Antioch Golf Course.

Not only will there be a bridal fashion show at 2 p.m., but vendors who can offer many products and services to make your wedding just a little better, will be there to aid you in making your wedding plans.

The bridal fashions, done by Silk 'N Haz, Grayslake, including the men's tuxes, will bring your wedding to life as you choose your favorite gown, etc.

A florist, with the latest in bridal flowery, will be on hand, as well as a photographer, a printer featuring the newest trend in wedding invitations, a videographer, a deejay and a hair salon, etc.

Doors will be open at 12:30 p.m. and the fashion show will start at 2 p.m. Refreshments will be offered. Admission is free. Tickets will be available at Silk 'N Haz starting Jan. 4. Call 223-3166 for more information as well as fashion show ticket info. Free refreshments will also be served.

LCFP wedding extravaganza set

The Fourth Annual Wedding Extravaganza, sponsored by the Lake County Forest Preserve will be held at Brae Loch Banquet facilities, on Saturday, Jan. 25 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

At 1 p.m., there will be a bridal fashion show with clothes from James Calvin's Bridal and Formal Fashions of Mundelein and Gingiss Formal Wear out of Waukegan and Vernon Hills. Those attending will be receiving free gifts from the exhibitors after the fashion show.

Lakeland Newspapers, an associate sponsor, is the official media representative.

Many vendors having products of direct interest to a perspective bride who is planning a small wedding, or her own wedding extravaganza, will be there to give advice on bridal needs.

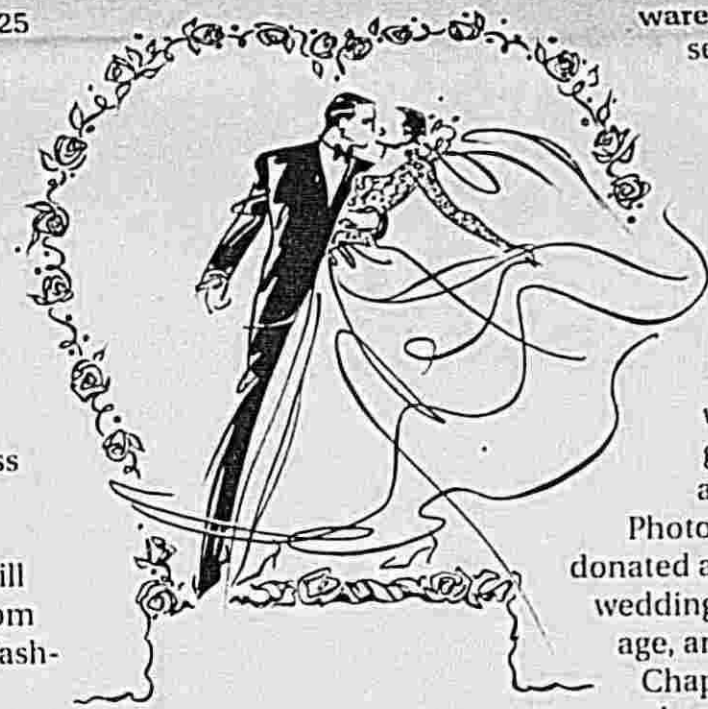

Displaying their wares will be such services as a photographer, a deejay, a limo service, a videographer and many more.

Admission is $2 per person. There will be two grand prizes awarded: GJQ

Photo in Antioch has donated an economy wedding photo package, and Cupid's Chapel in Waukegan has donated a complete wedding in the chapel and a honeymoon. Call Kim Kelly at 367-3676, ext. 121 for more information.

Homemade accessories make for a perfect wedding day

The wedding day is one of the most important days in a woman's life. She wants everything, from her gown to the flowers to the food served at the reception, to be perfect. Most of all, she wants her memories of the big day to be special.

Personal, handmade bridal accessories can help make those memories special. A lace-trimmed ring pillow, made out of the same fabric as the bridal gown, contains details that are hard to find in a store-bought pillow.

The following ring pillow will add a personal touch to the wedding day. After the ceremony, it can be used as a decoration in the bedroom or kept in a safe place for use in the next family wedding.

Ring Pillow

3/4 yard of 24 inch wide silk voile for pillow back and front
1 11 inch square of silk satin for front lining
1 10 inch square knife-edge pillow form
2 1/2 yards of 2 1/2 inch wide lace for ruffle
1 1/4 yards satin piping
1 10 inch zipper or 10 inch Velcro® strip
1 yard of 1/4 inch wide satin ribbon
1 1/4 yards of 2 1/4 inch wide insertion lace
Directions: (1/2 inch seams allowed)

1. Cutting: From voile, cut an 11 inch square pillow front and two 6 inch by 11 inch pillow backs.

2. Pillow Front: Symmetrically space two vertical and two horizontal 11 inch lengths of insertion lace on the voile pillow front; pin and edgestitch. With small, sharp scissors, cut away the voile behind the lace.

Place the right side of the satin square against the wrong side of the pillow front, with edges even. Baste the edges.

3. Piping: Pin the piping 1/2 inch from the edges of the pillow front, with right sides together and raw edges outward, clipping to the piping seam at each corner. Stitch over the piping seam.

4. Ruffle: Seam the short ends of the ruffle lace together; press seam open. Fold the resulting loop with the seam at one end, and mark the opposite fold. Fold the loop in half again, and mark those two folds. Stitch a gathering row at each quarter (mark to mark) of the loop. Pin the lace to the pillow front with the seam or quarter mark at each corner; have right sides together and sides even. Pull up gathers to fit pillow. Stitch along the piping seam.

5. Pillow Back: With right sides facing, pin the two back pieces together along an 11 inch edge. Stitch a 1/2 inch long seam at each end. Press the seams, and insert a zipper or Velcro strip between them. Open the zipper part way.

6. Assembly: Pushing lace toward the center, pin pillow front to pillow back, with right sides together and edges even. Seam along the previous stitching. Turn the case right side out through the zipper opening.

7. Ring Ribbons: Cut two 8 inch lengths of ribbon. Pin the center of each to the pillow, and fasten in place with small stitches.

8. Insert the pillow form, and close the zipper. Tie a ribbon around each ring.

Wedding preparations don't have to be stressful

When it comes to their wedding, the bride and groom want everything to be perfect. From the ceremony to the reception, they consider all the details, and while this makes for a beautiful wedding day, it also causes months, and maybe even years, of stress.

The best way for a couple to remain calm while planning the big day is to get organized. By making a list of things they need to do, they can allot time in their schedules for each task—and they can feel a sense of accomplishment and relief each time they cross something off the list.

This basic checklist can get them started on their way to a beautiful wedding day.

• Set the date—As soon as possible after getting engaged, the couple should select a wedding date and decide on the type of wedding they would like to have. From a traditional ceremony in a church to a surprise wedding, where guests are invited to a "party" that turns out to be a wedding, couples are personalizing the event and planning weddings that reflect their lifestyles and interests.

• Reserve a location—The couple should reserve the church or location of the ceremony soon after setting the date to ensure they can get married on the day they want. Then, they need to reserve a reception location. Party houses and halls specialize in party business and feature catering directors who will assist a couple in planning their dream wedding. Hotel receptions are becoming increasingly popular, and hotels also have catering directors on staff. Independent caterers are a good choice for home weddings or garden receptions.

• Select a photographer—Every photographer has a different style and a different way of covering weddings. The couple should choose one who will accommodate their wishes, like taking the types and number of shots they want, attending both the ceremony and reception, and offering the album design they would like. The most important quality of a photographer is his or her personality. The couple will be spending an entire day with this person, so they should choose someone who will make them feel comfortable.

• Book reception entertainment—The couple should select a disc jockey or band that will cater to everyone at the reception—both the younger and older generations. The musical selections should be diverse, and requests from the guests should be taken.

• Arrange wedding transportation—

Whether it's a Rolls Royce, stretch limo, horse and buggy, or double-decker bus, the couple should plan for transportation to and from the ceremony and to the reception for themselves and their attendants. They should make reservations early, especially if they want a white car.

• Order dresses—

Shopping for a wedding dress, headpiece and bridesmaid dresses is one of the most fun parts of the planning for the future bride. She should choose a wedding dress that reflects her style and personality—and makes her look beautiful. When considering dresses for her attendants, the bride-to-be should opt for a style that complements her dress, as well as the girls in her party.

• Choose a florist—Flowers can add an elegant touch to the wedding day, and every florist has a unique style. The couple should select one whose arrangements they like and who offers them helpful, creative ideas about bouquets, corsages and centerpieces.

• Decide on a bakery—The couple should select a bakery based on the flavor of the cakes baked there and the look of previous work. They should ask for a taste of the different types of cake offered, and they should see if the bakery will be able to create the design that they want.

• Select formal wear—Whether it's a basic tuxedo or a top hat and tail coat, formal wear completes the look of the wedding party. The couple should select a formal-wear provider who offers the style they want, has a variety of sizes available to fit all of the men standing up, and offers a large selection of bow ties and cummerbunds or vests.

• Order invitations—Invitations come in many different styles, so the bride and groom will have a number of books to look through. They should decide on a style that best suits their wedding, based on its formality, the time of day and the wedding colors. The stationery professional can help them with this decision.

With these important decisions made, the future bride and groom only have a few things left to do, like selecting favors, writing a wedding bulletin and buying thank-you gifts for their attendants. They're well on their way to the wedding of their dreams.

Creative planning can bring about adventurous weddings

Growing up, many people envision the wedding of their dreams. After years of dreaming, when people finally get to plan their own wedding, they want every aspect of the day to be perfect.

The majority of couples marry in a place of worship, a hotel or a catering hall; however, some are starting to become a little more adventuresome when planning their weddings. Since this will be one of the most important days in their lives, they want it to be exactly the way they always dreamed it would be.

As people have started to look for unique places to get married, new and creative sites to hold nuptials are turning up each day.

For those who have always dreamed of exchanging vows in a theme park, like Walt Disney World, the opportunity is now available. Many theme parks offer wedding packages, complete with a staff member who works exclusively on planning the wedding of people's dreams. Some couples choose to spend their honeymoon partying with the friends and family members who attended the wedding—hotel accommodations are available.

Sports enthusiasts are considering sports arenas and stadiums as spots for their nuptials. Whether it be between periods at a hockey game, or an empty baseball diamond or during halftime at a football game, many couples choose to go this route. Those interested can call up individual stadiums to see if this type of wedding is possible.

Resorts like those in the Caribbean, Hawaii, the Poconos and Europe offer all-inclusive packages for hot wedding and honeymoon. A popular choice for couples is to marry, shoeless, on the beach, often in bathing suites. They will have to bring their own clothes, but the resort wedding planner will take care of the details. People who are interested can contact the resort, itself, or the local tourism board to find out information on required blood tests and licensing information.

Some people choose to be married on the ground in a hot-air balloon. Once they say "I do," they fly away in the balloon as their guests wish them well.

Trolley cars and trains quickly are becoming a popular spot for ceremonies to take place, as are museums, parks and cruise boats.

Another popular idea is that people are incorporating their mutual hobbies into the ceremony. For example, a couple who are both avid scuba divers found a judge who would marry them underwater. It may seem strange, but they did indeed have the wedding of their dreams.

Whatever way couples choose to celebrate their upcoming nuptials, they should remember the most important people to think about when planning the wedding are themselves. Ideally, a wedding is a once-in-a-life-time event; people should do their best to make it everything they always dreamed it would be.

Simple solutions can help reduce wedding expenses

Having a wedding has become extremely expensive. It is difficult for the bridal couple to overcome the high cost of getting married in the '90s. Once upon a time, it was just assumed that the bride's family was to pay for "everything" (including the ceremony and reception), while the groom's family paid for the rehearsal dinner. These days, the division of expenses had changed greatly. No longer are the parents of the couple required to pay for anything. The bridal couples pay for most of the cost themselves, and the parents contribute whatever they can.

Before booking a reception hall, ordering flowers and buying gowns, the couple must create a budget. First, they must decide how much they are planning to spend and, then, how the expenses are going to be divided.

Suzanne Kresse, author of "Secrets of Successful Brides" (St. Martin's), suggest that, when planning a budget, couples should allow an additional 25 percent more money for extras that they have yet to come across, but that are bound to come up. Some of these "unexpected extras" include tips, hairdresser fees, wedding favors, meals for the band and photographer during the reception, and presents exchanged between the groom and the bride.

To help keep costs down, Kresse offers some simple ways to save on wedding expenses:

- Trim the guest list—shaving off five to 10 names can save a lot of money.
- Consider having fewer attendants in your bridal party.
- Make your honeymoon plans when special air-fair programs are advertised.

How to capture all your wedding memories

More than 2.5 million couples get married each year. And, one of the most frequently heard complaints by all of them is that things happened so quickly they hardly even remember their own wedding. That's why photography is so important.

Next to the bride and groom, the most important person at the wedding is often the photographer. To help ensure wedding memories are recorded for years to come, Eastman Kodak Co. offers the following tips:

Going to the chapel—Some of the best memories happen even before "the big day," for example, the bride trying on veils, the flower girl rehearsing her part, the groom at his bachelor party. To make sure these spontaneous moments are recorded, delegate attendants as official record keepers. Arm them with Kodak Fun Saver 35 one-time-use cameras, and let them snap away.

Bridal shower blues—Sure, the bridal shower is fun, but what's a girl to do when it's time to send out thank-you notes and she can't remember which guest gave which crystal wine decanter? As each gift is opened, have the maid of honor snap a shot of the bride with the gift and the guest who gave it to her. The benefits: There's no gift confusion, it's easier than writing everything down, and with a quick note scrawled on the back, the photos serve as personal thank-you cards.

Get the guests involved

One of today's biggest wedding trends is brides to place one-time-use cameras on tables, inviting guests to capture candid moments.

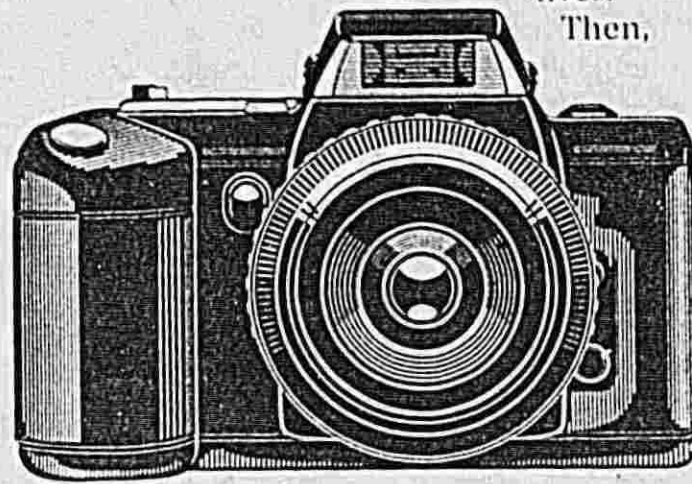

Kodak recently introduced the Kodak Fun Saver wedding party pack, containing five one-time-use cameras. Each camera is designed with elegant, floral and lace graphics, has 15 exposures, and is filled with a roll of Kodak Royal Gold 400 film that provides outstanding clarity and sharpness with rich, saturated color. Because of its superior image structure, Kodak Royal Gold film is an ideal choice for making enlargements and reprints. And, all Kodak Fun Saver one-time-use cameras are recycled or reused after the film inside is processed.

Keep your photos organized

It's always important to keep your photos organized and in a safe place, but people often forget about storing their negatives.

Then,

when they want to make reprints, the process is a nightmare. The new Kodak photofile index system makes it easy to store negatives—and find them later. When consumers develop any roll of Kodak film and ask for the Kodak photofile index system, they'll receive a four inch by six inch print with an index of each photo, along with their respective negative frame numbers and, of course, their prints. For easy retrieval and storage, the negatives are included with the photofile.

The honeymoon doesn't have to end—Make your wedding day live on by using photos creatively. There are dozens of great ways to use the pictures guests take with one-time-use cameras. Consider using these candid shots as thank-you notes, for scrapbooks, home decorating, etc. Also, make a lasting impression on your friends with Kodak photo impressions systems digital-imaging products. Three new systems make it fun and easy to enhance and personalize photos by adding text, graphics, borders and more directly from your prints.

Display your photos for a lifetime of memories—Don't settle for only one photo album—frame your wedding photos, so they can be viewed at all times. Also, friends and family will love receiving framed enlargements of special wedding photos that include them. All Kodak frames feature nonglare glass and UV protection to protect and preserve your prints.

For more information on Kodak products or for additional photo tips, call the Kodak information Center at 1 (800) 242-2424.

Thank ones who make wedding day special

In the weeks prior to the actual wedding ceremony, the bride's house will start to look like it does at Christmas. Packages and boxes of all shapes and sizes from various guests and well wishers will be arriving daily. In this time of excitement, organization is needed to keep track of who sent what gift.

One of the most important tasks that the bridal couple must complete is the overwhelming job of writing thank-you notes to all who set gifts. The job of sending these notes is so time-consuming, because they must be written; a verbal thank you is not enough.

The only verbal note that can be sent is a telegram, which can get costly when sending to a large number of guests.

Wedding gifts are given to both the bride and groom. When writing a thank-you note, be sure the signature reflects both of them. Writing the notes is not just the task of the bride, so be sure to put the groom to work. One idea is for the groom to write to his friends and the bride to hers. It is fine to sign only one name, so long as the writer says, for example, "Tad and I thank you for the wonderful toaster."

Make sure the gift is specifically mentioned in the note, keeping in mind that monetary gifts should never be referred to by dollar amount. A guest should be able to see that the couple appreciated, as well as remembered, the gift that was given to them.

The note should say exactly how the gift will be used. Additionally, if the gift needed to be returned, either because it was a duplicate or it simply could not be used, never inform the sender; a simple thank you is enough.

Be prompt in sending thank-you notes. Although it is perfectly acceptable to send a thank you until three months after the wedding, couples should start writing before the wedding for gifts received in advance.

This eliminates a lot of work and informs guests that the gifts were received and not lost during shipping.

Finally, couples should share any special memories they have of their guest from the wedding. Not only will they be thanking the guest for the gift, but most importantly, they'll be thanking him or her for coming to and celebrating the happy occasion with them.

Elegant, eclectic, epicurean, i.g., The Barn of Barrington

When chef August Ditzinger introduced Lake County to the Barn of Barrington 25 years ago, he brought area residents unique gourmet dining in an aura of eclectic elegance never before experienced.

Guests are greeted with a lavishly hand-wrought Italian staircase and a Spanish carving mounted over the inviting fireplace in the Reception Hall.

The next stop is the Great Hall with a carved wooden entry rescued from the Harley Davidson mansion upon its demise. The hall, which is actually a

120-year-old barn, is embellished with a 12-foot rose window hanging from the 40-foot ceiling, shipped from France in the 1930s. It is also adorned, like the rest of the restaurant, with a myriad of fine European and American antiques and memorabilia.

For intimate gourmet dining from an ala carte menu designed by Ditzinger, guests are led into The Carvery, with its original stone walls, grandiose chandeliers and bar imported from London. The sumptuous menu includes luncheon items ranging from Alaskan King Salmon Salad to U. S. Prime Rib, and dinner favorites appealing to appetites desiring dishes spanning the epicurean range from the exquisite Filet Mignon Madagascar to a big selection of fresh fish specials. Private dining areas, seating from 20 to 200 guests, with dashing names like the Baronial Chamber, the Architect's Loft, the Sunken Dining Room, the Solarium, the Vintage Room and the Crown Room, bring the Barn's special ambiance to weddings, Bar Mitzvahs, anniversaries, corporate affairs, etc.

Don't forget to take in the dancing in the Music Room after enjoying a drink and some scintillating conversation in the Carousel Bar featuring the piano sounds of Kenneth Goodman on Friday and Saturday from 8 p.m.
The Barn of Barrington, a place of many moods filling a variety of fine dining needs.

Depressed? It could be seasonal affective disorder

KENNETH G. GILBERT M.D.

Not into the holiday spirit? Feeling like a Scrooge? It is possible that "bah humbug" feeling is more than just a case of the holiday blues. You could be suffering from a type of depression called Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD).

Recognizing depression can be a problem since it sneaks up on you, getting worse a little bit at a time. There can be a series of bad days that can lead a person to believe he or she should seek professional help, but then experiencing a "better" day or two can create hope that perhaps nothing is wrong.

SAD is recognized as unique, yet treatable, type of depression. Although the cause of this condition is not completely understood, SAD is a mood altering disorder associated with the shorter days of winter.

Conditions other than seasonal ones may trigger this disorder as well. Moving to a darker location at work can stimulate this condition.

Some sufferers are affected during an extended period of overcast days in the summer. Stress can be a factor, and genetics may dictate who is affected, since SAD frequently runs in families. Also, women seem to be affected by SAD more than men, which may mean that hormones are linked to this disorder.

Common Symptoms of Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD) include: trouble sleeping, change in appetite, decreased concentration, lack of motivation, decreased ability to enjoy things that normally bring joy.

Some SAD sufferers may experience more severe symptoms, such as increased anxiety and restlessness or even panic attacks. Most people with acute symptoms realize that they need treatment. However, it is common for people with only moderate depression to not recognize that they have a treatable illness. Most believe they just hate the holiday season and are surprised to discover that with treatment, they actually can enjoy the holidays after all.

Treating SAD can be simple. Doctors have found that people suffering from this type of depression find relief if they visit a part of the world where days are longer. For those who cannot afford the luxury of this treatment, doctors prescribe exposure to a specially designed apparatus that produces very bright light for 20 minutes a day. Some patients need to be started on treatment for depression about the first of October and continue treatment until April. They can usually go off treatment through the summer when the days are longer, but will inevitably have the same symptoms of depression the next fall, when they will again need to undergo treatment.

It is important to remember that depression is a biological issue, not an issue of character. Additional information can also be obtained by calling the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill at (703) 524-7600.

Operation Christmas Cheer visits North Chicago VAMC

The Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) 5th District, Dept. of Illinois, sponsored their annual Operation Christmas Cheer at the North Chicago Veterans Affairs Medical Center.

Ken Hauser, VFW 5th District Chaplain and Chairman of Operation Christmas Cheer gathered together beauty queens from Illinois and Wisconsin to come to North Chicago VAMC to visit hospitalized veteran patients during the holiday season.

This year's lovely and talented group were Miss Illinois, Tania Joy Gibson; Miss Wisconsin, Jennifer Streblow; Miss Northern Illinois, Cheryl Raxzon; Miss Cook County, Deanna Riddle; Miss Kenosha, Danika Froemming; Miss Racine, Erica Medendorp; Miss Freeport, Amy O'Donnell; Miss North East Wisconsin, Kristin Tielens; Miss Williamson County, Sara Richey; Miss Southern Illinois, Stacey Smudrick; Miss Cross County, Ryan Carole Mosher; Miss Mississippi Crown, Octavia Houtekier; Miss Dream Girl, Heather McCoy; Miss Halmen, Amy Halberg; Miss Southern

With beauty queens at Operation Christmas Cheer are Ken Hauser, VFW 5th District, Chaplain and Chairman of Operations Christmas Cheer and Al Pate, Director at North Chicago VA Medical Center.

Illinois, Shawna Thompson; and Miss Onalaska, Dawn Varnum.

Other VFW 5th District officials attending were James Danielson, Commander and Louise Kuck, president of the ladies auxiliary.

"Community support and involvement is very important for our veterans. We salute the VFW for their support of special programs, such as this one, for our hospitalized veterans," says Al Pate, medical center director.

New Mammography service opens at Gurnee facility

Mammography, the low-dose radiation x-ray procedure that helps identify breast cancer and other breast diseases, is now available at the Magnetic Resonance Institute of Lake County, 60 S. Greenleaf St., Gurnee.

For women over the age of 35, breast disease is a primary health concern. Statistics indicate that one of 10 women will develop breast cancer at some point in her life. A mammogram helps identify breast cancer years before it can be felt by self-examination. If the disease is diagnosed early, the chances of survival are increased.

The Magnetic Resonance Institute is offering screening mammograms for women without symptoms of breast disease at a special low cost of $60 for appointments before Jan. 31, 1997.

The $60 fee includes screening mammogram and radiologist's interpretation of the x-rays. Diagnostic mammograms, for women with symptoms of breast cancer or who have a history of the disease, are available for an additional cost at the institute.

Women don't need their doctors' prescription to schedule a mammogram. They can make an appointment themselves, by calling the institute at 360-1674. Mammography-certified technologists will administer the tests. Experienced, board-certified radiologists will read the exams and forward the results to the patients' primary care physicians for follow-up.

The institute's mammography services are accredited by the American College of Radiology and FDA approved. It is affiliated with Victory Memorial Hospital and St. Therese Medical Center.

To schedule a mammogram or for information on other diagnostic services available at the Magnetic Resonance Institute of Lake County, call 360-1674.

Immunization program at Condell being relocated

Due to the increased response to Condell Medical Center's participation in the Lake County Childhood Immunization Program, sponsored by the Lake County Community Health Partnership, the medical center has moved the program to a new location.

The immunization program will be held in Condell's Allen Conference Center at 700 Garfield Ave. on the medical center's campus in Libertyville. Immunizations are available for $6 each from 5 to 7 p.m., the second Tuesday of each month.

The Partnership is a collaborative network of Lake County hospitals, the Lake County Health Dept. the Lake County Medical Society, Lake County schools and government, the United Way of Lake County, College of Lake County, local business and other social service organizations. The program's first goal is to increase the number of children in Lake County who are fully immunized by age 2.

New hope for congested noses

A new form of laser treatment is now available for people who have suffered from chronically congested or obstructed noses passages. If the cause of the nasal congestion is not due to allergies and the nose hasn't responded to standard medical therapy, LATR (laser assisted turbinate reduction) may provide relief.

Dr. William Gatti, board certified ear, nose and throat physician on staff at Victory Memorial Hospital, says, "LATR is a new way of treating something that is reasonably common. Patients whose rhinitis can't otherwise be successfully treated may benefit from this new treatment."

Dr. Gatti estimates that up to 20 percent of the patients he treats for nasal obstruction are candidates for LATR.

LATR uses a carbon dioxide laser with special wave guides to reduce the size of the soft tissue projections (turbinates) in the nose which serve to warm and humidify air. These projections can become irritated or enlarged due to allergies, weather changes, stress, fatigue, hormonal changes, sensitivities or medications. Continual nasal congestion and or blockage is often the result of such irritation.

The obstruction of nasal passages because of enlargement of this tissue is a common symptom among many allergy patients. When the tissue increases in size, several problems may result. The nasal cavity can narrow making breathing difficult and/or small openings that drain the sinuses can become clogged, resulting in chronic sinus problems.

"Many patients have been told that they have to learn to live with it, when it is found that their congestion is not the result of an allergy. This procedure may offer another alternative," says Dr. Gatti.

LATR reduces the size of the enlarged turbinates, relieves the pressure of nasal congestion and often improves nasal breathing. The procedure can be performed in a doctors office with a topical anesthesia which is sprayed into the nose. According to Dr. Gatti LATR "carries little risk of bleeding, causes minimal discomfort, requires no packing and allows the patient to return to normal activities almost immediately." Prior to the development of the laser procedure, this operation required surgery under general anesthesia.

"This procedure may eliminate the need for such current self treatments as frequent nasal sprays and tape applied to the nose at night to make breathing easier," says Dr. Gatti.

William Gatti, MD has offices in Gurnee and Libertyville. For more information on LATR for the treatment of non-allergic chronic nasal congestion, call 336-9928 or 816-1228.

HNI announces support groups for '97

The "From Grief to Hope" support groups of the Hospice of Northeastern Illinois (HNI) will begin new sessions in 1997. In the Woodstock area they will be offered on Mondays from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. beginning Jan. 6 and running through Feb. 10. In the Barrington area, they will be offered on Wednesdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. from Jan. 8 through Feb. 12. A fee of $15 covers each series. For additional information, contact the Bereavement Dept. of HNI by calling (800) 425-4444.

A not-for-profit, community-based organization, the purpose of Hospice of Northeastern Illinois (HNI) is to support terminally ill patients and their families in Boone, DuPage, Kane and McHenry counties, as well as in western Lake and Cook Counties. Hospice is dedicated to easing the emotional and physical pain that often accompanies terminal illness, ensuring a higher quality of living for both patients and their families. HNI, which has offices in Wheaton, Barrington and Woodstock, also offers educational programs, seminars, information and speakers to address a variety of issues.

For reservations or additional information about hospice services, support groups, speakers or volunteer opportunities, call (800) 425-4444.

Condell Medical Center Ultrasound Department earns accreditation

Condell Medical Center, 801 S. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, announced this week that its Ultrasound Dept. received a three-year accreditation in ultrasound from the American College of Radiology.

According to Sue McVey, director of the Dept. of Radiology at Condell, the award was the result of a survey by the American College of Radiology (ACR). "ACR awards accreditation to an ultrasound practice for the achievement of high practice standards after a voluntary evaluation of its practice."

In addition to this accreditation, the Mammographic Services in Condell's Radiology Dept. also holds accreditation from the American College of Radiology Accreditation.

YOUR EYES

by Charlotte F. Nielsen O.D.

When the average American child graduates from high school, they have spent more time in front of the family TV set than they have in school. For the benefit of parents who are concerned over possible ill-effects of TV watching on the eyes, there are some reassuring findings.

Watching a properly installed and adjusted TV from a reasonable distance (at least five times the width of the picture), involves less eyestrain than doing other close work...reading or sewing, for example. If a child insists on sitting too close to the set, he may be myopic (nearsighted). Excessive TV watching may cause eyestrain, headache and dizziness but will not damage the eyes.

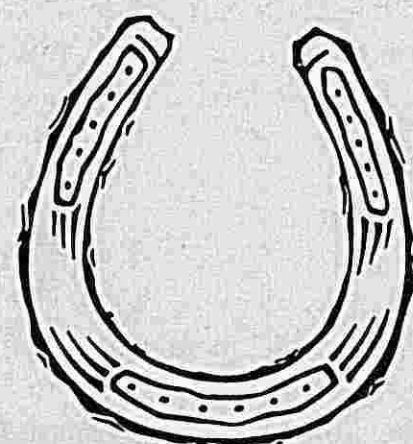

TV watching and all visual tasks are easier and more fun when the eyesight is normal or corrected to normal. Have your eyes examined at least one each year.

Out of control

I want to applaud Larry Leafblad for having the guts, integrity and intelligence to try to finally do something to curb the spiraling out of control development of homes. It's out of control, stop it now with a moratorium.

No chance

I am a long-time resident of Round Lake Beach and now that Carl Schrimpf is again running for mayor after being in there 20 years, he thinks he's going to get another chance? Come on Carl, give some fresh blood a chance to run. Or leave the current mayor, who's trying his best, alone.

Problem-solver

I just want to say that Mayor Davis of Round Lake Beach is a good, honest guy. He's finding solutions for our problems. He's brought businesses in and roads have been paved, there's a train station, a new water tower, a new lake, new park, new water lines, repairing water lines, removing graffiti. Just look around, there's good things happening. He's doing great.

Out of touch

Do we look like a bunch of millionaires or is Carol Jonaitis that far out of touch when it comes to sewers? Maybe she's not on a tight budget, but some of us aren't that fortunate. There's no way we can afford an extra $200 or $300 a month in taxes. She says she wasn't going to cram the sewers down our throats, but now she wants to form a special service area after the elections. This way it won't hurt her chances for the township race. What a hypocrite. Let's start forming one now so we can stop it before she gets into office.

Call church to donate

In response to the thing about who wants Nintendo, please call Central Baptist Church in Lake Villa, (847) 356-2391. Ask for Amy Younts. Please donate it to a child who will really appreciate it.

Thanks for the spirit

On behalf of the members of the Round Lake Beach Holiday Home Decorating Contest Committee, I would like to express our appreciation to the residents who displayed their holiday spirit through decorations. Thank you for the joy the community has received through your efforts.—Sharon Fyfe, Village Clerk of Round Lake Beach

Keep it to ourselves

I see Lake Zurich is swearing in more firefighters and buying more trucks. It seems like we're doing the firefighting in most of Lake County. This is only a town of 17,000. We don't have that many fires and why should we be taking care of everyone else? This is increasing our taxes. Why can't the police help our firemen?

Kind act

This is a thank you to a woman named Diane, who picked me up when my car broke down on Route 83 in Grayslake. She didn't know me, she had three kids and it was freezing. She drove me to my home. Thanks, Diane in Lake Villa, it was really kind of you.

Stop the rhetoric

The article says that Pat Carey now intends to become an environmentalist by preserving and acquiring open space and wetlands. Pat was an environmentalist for a short time four years ago, also right around an election year. Since then she has joyfully accepted a landfill and refused to increase open space developer land donations for the park district. In addition, she has loudly criticized others for preserving sensitive areas. Save the election year rhetoric, Pat. We heard it four years ago and we no longer believe you.

Wanted to vote

Thanks a lot, Antioch Township Board. We wanted to vote on the sewers and you didn't even put it on the ballot for us. Why? Tim Osmond said he needed more information? He had over a year to get information, if he really wanted to. And he says he can work with people and get things done? Is that the type of supervisor he's going to be?

Preferred mail

I live in Grayslake and get home delivery. I really preferred the mail service. You've got to hunt for it now.

Get counseling

I think it's time to get rid of the jingle from Pringle column. Mrs. Pringle is neither funny nor interesting and never has a nice thing to say about anybody. If her life is so meaningless and pitiful as she reports, then her time would be better spent in family counseling than in writing this negative, mean-spirited column. If you agree, please call in.

Great concert

I'm calling to say that I went to the annual St. Peters Choir Concert. It filled me with the spirit of Christmas for another year. They did a great job and Antioch is lucky to have such a great choir.

Fill your hearts

I'm an avid Lipservice reader. I'd like to ask all Lipservice readers put aside their gripes and negative opinions and fill their hearts with sincere peace. The universal religion is that of love and giving. Don't be afraid to give. One good act, service, word, or smile will reward you where it counts the most, your heart. In this season of peace, love and happiness we all can practice a few random acts of kindness. Everyone benefits from kindness and there really are angels on earth. Just look in the mirror.

Welcome, neighbors

I'd like to welcome the owners of the quality built log home in Grayslake to the neighborhood. An appearance committee is a bad idea. Just remember, Maria, next time it could be you who's judged.

I see your point

I see the same family that owns the now-shuttered Tops restaurant in Mundelein was just arrested for prostitution in El Township. Now I'm in favor of the village board letting this restaurant leave. I was against the village for making a mistake in letting this restaurant leave the village initially. Great job, guys!

Bulldogs or Rams?

Is this the Grayslake Times or the Fox Lake Times? Once again, I open up the sports pages and there's nothing but Grant girls basketball. Nothing on Grayslake Rams girls basketball. If I wanted to read about Fox Lake, I'd subscribe to a Fox Lake paper. I guess I'll be canceling my subscription.

Catch 'em here

I'm calling to say if County Sheriff's police want to catch numerous people drinking and driving, go to Calahan Road in Wauconda. About noon, people from the industrial park off of Bonner go to the Clark station and buy their beer, drive up and down the road, and throw their garbage out of their cars.

Thanks for closing

I'd like to thank Mayor Loffredo, Joyce Frayer, and all the other trustees who voted to close down Park Ave. Since they closed it down, our children can walk to school and we're not afraid of being hit by trucks. Thanks so much!

Thanks, Mike

This is to say thank you to Mike Conner. He brought the Cub Scouts Pack 299 and the Brownies to Beachhaven Towers to sing Christmas Carols. He brought cookies and treats, too. He made it very special. Thank you, Mike!

Donna's a bore

Donna Abear and her "Life's Abear" Christmas column unbelievably surpassed herself for reaching new heights for vulgar, tasteless humor. Her rendition of "The Night Before Christmas" was the epitome of poor taste. Whenever I decide to give her column another chance, I'm unfailingly insulted by her crude depictions of bodily functions or her sophomoric sexual innuendos. I don't expect Dave Barry, but Miss Abear needs to raise her standards. This is not to be confused with Ruth Sutton's "Partly Ruth" column and her unknown poet's contribution of "Twas the Night Before Christmas," which was amusing and at a higher level.

Save-A-Life to stress assisting youths' CPR understanding

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Expanding the knowledge for children to know what to do in emergency situations is the overall goal of Save-A-Life for Kids.

A part of the Save-A-Life Foundation, the effort is the new emphasis for founder Carol Spizzirri. It is through this program that the foundation has received its latest grant funds.

The foundation began after Spizzirri's daughter, Christine, was killed in an automobile accident on Labor Day weekend, 1993. Spreading the word about CPR education has been the main cause of the Woodland Meadows mom ever since.

"Square D" and All-State Insurance companies have made donations.

"The Save-A-Life for Kids curriculum has the interest of five Lake County schools and there is more to come," Spizzirri said.

Round Lake is one school district which is considering the curriculum.

"We would like to set up a pilot program at a school next year. It's a good idea," Roycealee Wood, assistant Lake County regional superintendent of schools, said. She added the curriculum may be used in the health classes.

Wood learned of Save-A-Life's efforts when Spizzirri attended a Waukegan Rotary Club meeting. A new mascot, "Perry-Medic" will be scene at public events in 1997, espousing the importance of cardiopulmonary resuscitation education for those 4-12.

The mascot has been invited to his first event, an exhibition at Chicago's Navy Pier in February.

"It is exciting to see Perry-Medic so popular. They adore him and he will help youngsters learn to care, not to stare, in emergency situations," Spizzirri said.

During the holiday season, Spizzirri teamed up with Chicago TV station WCIU, Channel 26, to help pitch in for a 200 gift toy drive for needy children. The presents were accepted by the Lake County Health Dept. Women's Residential Services.

Tragedy teaches: Seat belts saves lives

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Wearing a seat belt in a car, van or truck has become an afterthought to many, but those who forget to strap-in may strap-on danger in an accident.

Although seat belts were not the only cause, there were an average of 114 traffic deaths per day nationally in 1996 according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

This boils down to four deaths per hour, or one death every 13 minutes.

Seat belt awareness has come to light in Wauconda following the tragic death of Scott Treveiler Jr. Only 17-years-old and learning how to become an auto mechanic, Treveiler suffered severe brain damage on Dec. 16 when the car he was riding in flipped over on a curvy stretch of Fairfield Road, 250 feet north of Gossell Road.

Had Treveiler worn a seat belt that day, his father, Scott Treveiler, Sr., is certain his son would be alive with only a few bruises to remind him of the accident.

This is the same scenario that happens every day, all over the county. Barbara L. Richardson, Lake County coroner, always reminds motorists to "drive safe, sober, and to remember to buckle up."

Not only is wearing a seat belt the law in Illinois, which carries a $55 fine if it is violated, it can save lives.

A seven-Midwestern state study conducted by the U.S. Department of Transportation between 1991 to 1993 presented in 1996 revealed that medical costs of accident victims who had to be hospitalized were $5,000 less, $9,004 as compared with $13,937, than those wore seat belts.

Between 1982 to 1994, seat belts accounted for saving more than 65,000 lives and prevented more than 1.5 million injuries nationwide, according to a report from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

"The wearing of the seat belt is very important in order to have the larger degree of safety," said Corporal Thomas Braze of the Lake County Sheriff's Department.

"In our business of death investigation," Richardson said, "we see entirely too many people who could have been saved if they had obeyed the speed limit, avoided alcohol or worn a seat belt."

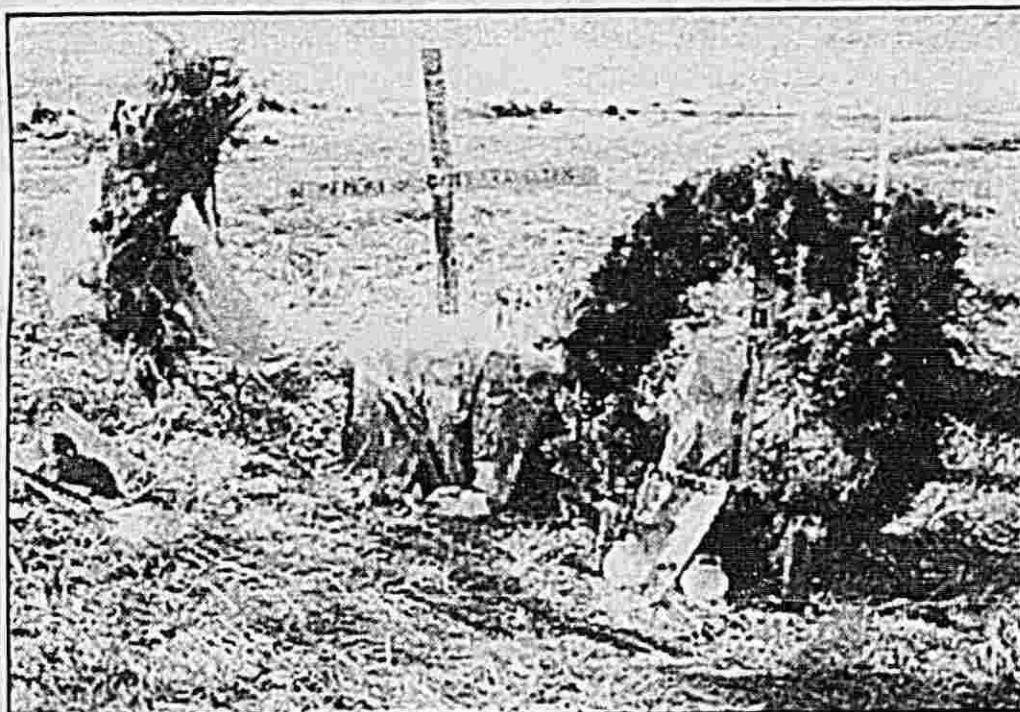

Alcohol has been ruled out by the Lake County Sheriff's Department as a factor in Treveiler's accident.

Braze said the safety built into vehicles may be hiding the dangers that can happen.

"Today's automobiles are designed to offer protection for the occupants of a car in the event of an accident," he said. "However, the safety systems are designed to include occupant restraints, that is to say seat belts."

Richardson said — "We want to remind everyone to make sure that they take the minute it takes to latch their safety belt and to remember to place all children in safety belts. That extra minute could mean the difference between life and death."

Crosses and wreaths are set up in memory of Wauconda teen Scott Treveiler Jr. in the ditch on Fairfield Road in Wauconda where a car he was riding in rolled over. His father, Scott Treveiler, Sr., is certain if his son had been wearing a seat belt, he would be alive today. —Photo by Sandy Bressner

Winter challenge nears

As they have for the past 40 years, Cub Scouts from throughout Lake County will gather for a day of cold weather fun, Saturday, in the annual Cub Scouts' Winter Challenge, which will also feature the Webelos Klondike Derby.

The events will be held at Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda.

"They have been doing this since I was in Cub Scouts in the late 1950s," said Blenn "Corky" Bell, public relations coordinator for the North Star District. "It's a great day of fun where the boys really learn to work together as a team."

During the Klondike Challenge the Cub Scouts will work in teams to build a sled out of wood that is provided.

"It's a 'Klondike' style-sled like the type used during the 'gold rush'," said Bell. "One of the Scouts is the driver and the others pull the sled through a series of obstacles."

During the Klondike Derby the Scouts will also compete in fire building contests and a knot tying contest.

The Cub Scout's Winter Challenge, celebrating its 20th year, features the boys going through a variety of obstacle courses.

The Winter Challenge will be held regardless of weather conditions, Jan. 4. If there is no snow, the Klondike Derby will be rescheduled to Jan. 18. —by RHONDA BURKE

Christmas tree recycling offered around county

Christmas comes once a year, and along with presents, Christmas decorations, good food and good cheer, comes a lot of trash. In order to give the environment a present during this season, there are a number of things each of us can do to reduce the amount of Christmas waste generated.

Changing gift wrapping habits can significantly cut down the mountains of holiday trash. Use old newspaper inside packages to cushion breakables. Put wrapping paper only on the lid of plain gift boxes so they can be used again. Wrap presents in the comics page, or decorate brown grocery bags and use them to wrap presents. Gift bags are easy to use and can be reused many times. Wrap multiple small items in one large box.

Many Lake County communities are also doing their part to create less waste by offering free Christmas tree pick-up and recycling to residents. The best way to handle our garbage is to not generate trash in the first place," said Monica Duebbert, Public Information Coordinator for the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County. "Recycling Christmas trees into mulch and compost creates a valuable, useful product and conserves landfill space."

Trees accepted in these programs must be placed at the curb free of all tinsel, lights, garlands, ornaments and hooks. All trees must also be untied and removed from any plastic or fabric bag.

Village of Antioch

Waste Management will collect trees during the second week of January on regular collection days. Trees discarded after those dates will be collected by Antioch Public Works, chipped for mulch and offered to residents. For more information, call 395-1000.

Village of Grayslake

Residents can recycle trees by placing them at the curb Jan. 3, 10 and 17. For more information, call 223-8515.

Village of Green Oaks

Beginning Dec. 28 through mid-January, residents wishing to recycle their Christmas trees can bring them to the entrance of the Old School Forest Preserve. Trees will be mulched for use by the forest preserve. For information, call 367-6640.

Village of Gurnee

The Public Works Dept. will collect trees at curbside from Dec. 30 through Jan. 17. Chipped tree mulch will be available free of charge to Gurnee residents for home use. For more information, call 623-7672.

Village of Kildeer

Curbside Christmas tree recycling will be provided on Jan. 2 and 8.

Village of Lake Barrington

Trees will be accepted during regular trash collection through the month of January. Call 381-6010 for more information.

Village of Lake Villa

Residents should place discarded trees at the curb for pick-up from Dec. 26 through mid-January. For more information, call 356-2116.

Village of Lake Zurich

Pick-up of Christmas trees will be available curbside with regular waste the week of Dec.

30 and Jan. 6. For more information, call 438-6763.

Village of Libertyville

Tree pick-up is available from the private waste haulers for the first two weeks of January. Questions should be directed to the appropriate waste hauler.

Village of Lincolnshire

Trees will be collected from Jan. 2 through 29 and the resulting mulch made available on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information, call 883-8600.

Village of Lindenhurst

Trees will be collected Dec. 30 and Jan. 6. Trees must be at the curb with the trunk facing the street. Mulch made from discarded trees will be available to residents. For more information, call 356-8252.

Village of Mundelein

Trees will be picked up curbside on Jan. 4 and 11. For more information, call 949-3200.

Village of North Chicago

Trees should be set out with regular garbage. The trees will be composted.

Village of Round Lake

Trees will be collected every Monday in January (Jan. 6, 13, 20 and 27) along with regular trash pick-up.

Village of Vernon Hills

The Dept. of Public Works will pick up trees from various areas in the community on these dates: Jan. 8—North of Route 60; Jan. 9—Deerpark and Stone Fence Farm; Jan. 10—Plymouth Farms, Westwood and Grosse Pointe Village; Jan. 11—Original Section, Olde Grove Farm, Hawthorn Club and Sugar Creek. Mulch from the trees will be available to residents in the spring. For more information, call 367-3700.

City of Zion

Discarded Christmas trees will be collected with regular curbside pick-up anytime after Jan. 2 and chipped for use by residents. For more information, call 746-4000.

If your community was not listed above, you still have tree recycling options. Residents in communities served by BFI may place trees for pick-up on regular garbage days Dec. 26 through Jan. 20. Trees will be composted. For more information, call 623-3870.

The Lake County Forest Preserve District operates an annual Christmas Tree Roundup. This year the Roundup starts Dec. 26 and runs through Feb. 1, 1997. Trees may be dropped off in the designated areas at the following locations from 7 a.m. to sunset: Greenbelt (N. Chicago), Half Day (Vernon Hills), Lakewood (Wauconda), Old School (Libertyville), Van Patten Woods (Zion), and Ryerson Woods (Deerfield). For more information, call 367-6640.

Holiday recycling also extends to the many Christmas cards people receive. St. Jude's Ranch for Children accepts greeting card covers, which they recycle into new cards. The children earn spending money and fund trips from the proceeds achieved through this project. Send Christmas card covers to: St. Jude's Ranch for Children, 100 St. Jude's St., Boulder City, NV 89005-0100. Phone (702) 293-3131.

Motor home fire halts move

GURNEE—A fire in a motor home halted plans for a Wisconsin family to move south.

Gurnee Fire Department reports some $8,000 in damage was done to a 1978 motor home. The contents included all of the family's possessions and totaled $10,000.

"The family of three was moving from Wisconsin to Florida," Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath said.

The vehicle was so involved with smoke and fire when firemen arrived at 4:30 a.m., Dec. 27, they assumed it was a van.

The gas tank on the motor home ruptured.

"Fortunately, there were no injuries," McGrath said.

Firemen were able to recover a family photo album and tried to return it to the Slinger, Wis. family.

The cause of the fire could not be determined. —

Organization accepts vehicles

WAUCONDA—Have an old junker taking up space in your driveway or garage? The Wauconda Revitalization Committee Inc. has the answer.

Owners of no longer needed vehicles who are looking for a tax deduction may want to consider handing over the title to the committee's Wheels to Wauconda, a non-profit organization formed to accept cars, trucks and vans in order to re-sell them.

All profits earned will go towards the committee's revitalization efforts. For more information, contact the committee at (847) 487-8757. —by SPENCER SCHEIN

Churches make move to merge

LAKE ZURICH—Just three years after it formed, the Ela Community Presbyterian Church has run its course and is merging with the Kirk of the Lakes Community Church of Mundelein.

A lack of support from the Presbytery of Chicago and the loss of its pastor lead the congregation to make the decision to join the Mundelein parish.

The first combined worship service was held Dec. 29, with plans to merge completely by this June, according to Amy Fowler, temporary pastor of Ela Community.

Kirk's Rev. Jay Basler sees the merging as a benefit to both congregations. "We will be able to have stronger and fuller programs," he said.

What the Kirk can offer Ela Community is a youth pastor and youth group for middle and high school students, Basler said. An after school youth club offered in Mundelein for children in preschool through the sixth grade will also be offered in Lake Zurich.

"I think it is going to be a big plus for both churches," Basler said.

The two churches will have a congregation of 200 members after the merger. —by SPENCER SCHEIN

Grayslake studies options

GRAYSLAKE—A plan to steer Grayslake Community high school in the right direction for the next decade and beyond is in the works. A master plan which studies the needs of a school in terms of space, building configuration and type of facilities will be compiled by Legat Architects for District 127 by June of 1997.

This type of plan is not a novelty to the district. A previous plan four years ago brought the school its new addition and the fieldhouse currently under construction. The study will be finalized in time for the board to consider a referendum if needed for the fall 1997 election.

As part of the plan the need for a second campus will be looked at. This has been something the board of education and administration have long talked of but don't seem to want unless absolutely necessary. It isn't even known if long term population projections will prove there would be a need for a school that large. A detailed demographics study is expected to be finalized within the next month and will be used in the study.

The availability of land for a second site is a road block if a second campus were considered. Costs have been estimated at $25 million to $28 million for on site expansion with second site figures jumping up to $45 million to $50 million.

Superintendent Ray Novak said some districts have over built and only needed a larger school for ten years or so making expansion something to be cautiously approached. —by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Tax rebate group to meet

GURNEE—Gurnee blue ribbon tax rebate committee members and community members may learn more about the village's proposed tax rebate program at a special meeting next week.

The meeting will be at Gurnee Village Hall at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 9.

"This will be the initial education meeting to bring the volunteers up to date on the village's plan for balanced growth and property taxes and the Gurnee budget process," Brad Burke, information officer for the village, said. —STEVE PETERSON

District planning for growth

LAKE VILLA—Lake Villa Elementary School District is projecting an influx of students in the next few years as municipalities within the district grow in population.

Dr. Alan Simon, superintendent, said an independent enrollment projection estimates enrollment to be at 3,200 by the year 2002. The current number is 2,250.

The district is likely to seek a building referendum in the spring or fall of 1997. Until then, the district may have to house students in the district office area as early as next year, according to Simon.

The board may have to bring in mobile units if it is too expensive to hold classes at the district offices —by ALEC JUNG

Grocery store engagement

ANTIOCH—Kirk Yonker, 30, of Twin Lakes, surprised Kathy Collins, 38, of Arlington Heights when he asked her to marry him over the PA system at the Antioch Jewel.

Yonker said he chose the store because she would never suspect it there.

The couple had been dating for six years. A June 14, 1997, wedding is planned. —by ALEC JUNG

Woman in coma improves

DEER PARK—An upbeat attitude can be found at Deer Park Village Hall, which doubles as the home of Village Administrator Kari Disen-Dahl, as she and her family await the return of her daughter Lillian Dahl from the hospital.

Lillian Dahl, 29, has been in a coma since Nov. 20 when her car collided with a van in Lake Zurich, totaling her vehicle and leaving her unconscious. She was transferred to THC (Transitional Hospital Corporation) in Chicago this week, following surgery at Lutheran General Hospital.

A sign of progress occurred when her eyes opened wide after she was placed into her bed at THC and the television in the room was turned on.

"She loves the American Classic Movies and so that is what was on the station before I had to go home," her mother said.

The Dahls feel so strongly that Lillian will pull through this, that her Christmas presents are still under the tree in their home.

"We are optimistic she will pull out of this and she will be able to open them up," Disen-Dahl said. —by SPENCER SCHEIN

Bell memorial time has come

As a point of business early in the new year, commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. would do well to memorialize George Bell, a former district president, civic, business and political leader who died just before the holidays at age 84.

More than anyone, Mr. Bell gave shape to the Forest Preserve system as it exists today while providing a vision and purpose for the assemblage of public lands that will serve the county far into the new century. Much of Lake County's most significant Forest Preserve land was acquired during his presidency in the mid-1970's.

Land along the DesPlaines River, Ryerson Woods in south Lake County, and Grant Woods between Fox Lake and Lake Villa became part of the system under his leadership. Mr. Bell gave impetus for the designation of more than 10,000 acres.

Before his involvement in county government, development of the Forest Preserve district was politically unpopular. He pushed hard for growth of the system we know today of park lands, trails, protected natural areas and recreational space.

Long a resident of Countryside in rural Mundelein, Mr. Bell was active in business in Grayslake and Waukegan. He served as supervisor of Fremont Township and represented a west Lake County area on the County Board. He also served on the board of education of Libertyville-Fremont (Mundelein) High School.

A George Bell Forest Preserve would be a fitting tribute to this public spirited and able Lake County resident.

Land grabbing move derailed

A courageous Lake County judge put a spotlight on the nefarious relationship between developers and politicians that has not served Illinois residents well.

Associate Judge Emilio B. Santi declared unconstitutional new legislation that allowed developers to alter school district boundaries under a precept known as "community of interest." In plain language, the practice used to be known as "land grabbing" where school boundaries would be redrawn for purely selfish purposes.

Constitutionality hinged on action by developers of Conway Farms to transfer lands from Lincolnshire-Prairie View School Dist. 103 to Lake Forest.

Gov. Jim Edgar signed the law enacted by a developer friendly Republican-dominated General Assembly into law in June. Lincolnshire school officials filed suit in July contending that the boundary change was unconstitutional because it would only benefit Lake Forest. What the suit didn't say—nay, couldn't say—was that the change would also benefit the developers. The legislation was sponsored by State Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff) who did not seek reelection.

Conway Farms has been attempting to redraw school boundaries since 1988 so that children living in the upscale development could attend school in Lake Forest. Dist. 103 fought the developer from the start on the grounds that valuable assessed valuation would be lost. Creative lawmakers conceived new legislation to legalize the land grab.

Local school officials and the Lake County Regional Board of School Trustees, which has jurisdiction in boundary matters, customarily stand together in opposition to boundary finigling because of tax base displacement. Boundary alterations for socio-economic reasons carry little water. Ten years ago parents in two different communities, Lincolnshire and Warren Township's Arbor Vista, argued unsuccessfully that their children were more attuned to the educational programs in Deerfield and Libertyville, respectively. No, no, the regional school trustees ruled.

Judge Santi's declaration effectively does away with political influence in school boundary alterations as represented by the "community of interest" law. As it should.

Parents—and developers—can always pay out-of-district tuition if they don't think the local school district measures up.

Grade centering latest school fad

For many children, their elementary school experience is like taking a cross-country trip on a Greyhound. A lot of stops along the way.

City kids don't know what they're missing. They can trudge to school and make their destination half asleep, employing instinct when alertness fails. Not so in the suburbs. School-bound youngsters need early purchase tickets and a boarding pass. Welcome to the world of grade-level centering.

With their children heading in all directions, more than a few parents in burgeoning Woodland Dist. 50, Lake County's largest school district in land area, remain unconvinced that changing schools every few years under a newly adopted reconfiguration plan is in the best interests of their offspring.

Supt. Dennis Conti gamely says research shows that children who attend grade-level centers do as well as children who remain in the same building. Woodland, reeling from the Gurnee area's explosive growth of the past decade, will employ grade centering for children from kindergarten through fifth grade.

If the neighborhood school concept isn't dead, it's fast being replaced by things like middle schools, primary buildings, early learning centers, junior highs, intermediate buildings, etc. Map reading isn't a required course yet as far as we know, but it may be the next curriculum innovation. Sheer necessity.

LOGS ARE IN—When a question was raised whether Jack and Mary Idstein's log house is an appropriate architectural style for a quiet Grayslake street, Santa Claus cast the final vote. Gifts from neighbors were delivered after the Idsteins completed their pre-Christmas move. "Now we know we are welcome," Mary declared.

BRIDGES TO FUTURE—One of Lake Forest's historic bridges, ticketed for demolition because of unsafe conditions, was saved in 1996 with public donations for restoration. Another famous Lake County bridge, the span across Grass Lake connecting areas of Fox Lake and Antioch, will get the beautification treatment this year by the Lake County Div. of Transportation. The bridge was built in 1939.

ENOUGH FOOD—Although Vernon Township is the wealthiest in Lake County, there still were families in need of food during the holidays. During 1996, the township's food pantry aided the needy in parts of Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Deerfield, Indian Creek, Lake Forest, Lincolnshire, Long Grove, Mettawa, Mundelein, Prairie View, Riverwoods, Vernon Hills and Wheeling, reported Supervisor William E. "Bill" Peterson.

*****
STORK PATROL—Dr. Deborah Winiger, who soon will be joining the staff at Libertyville's Primary Care

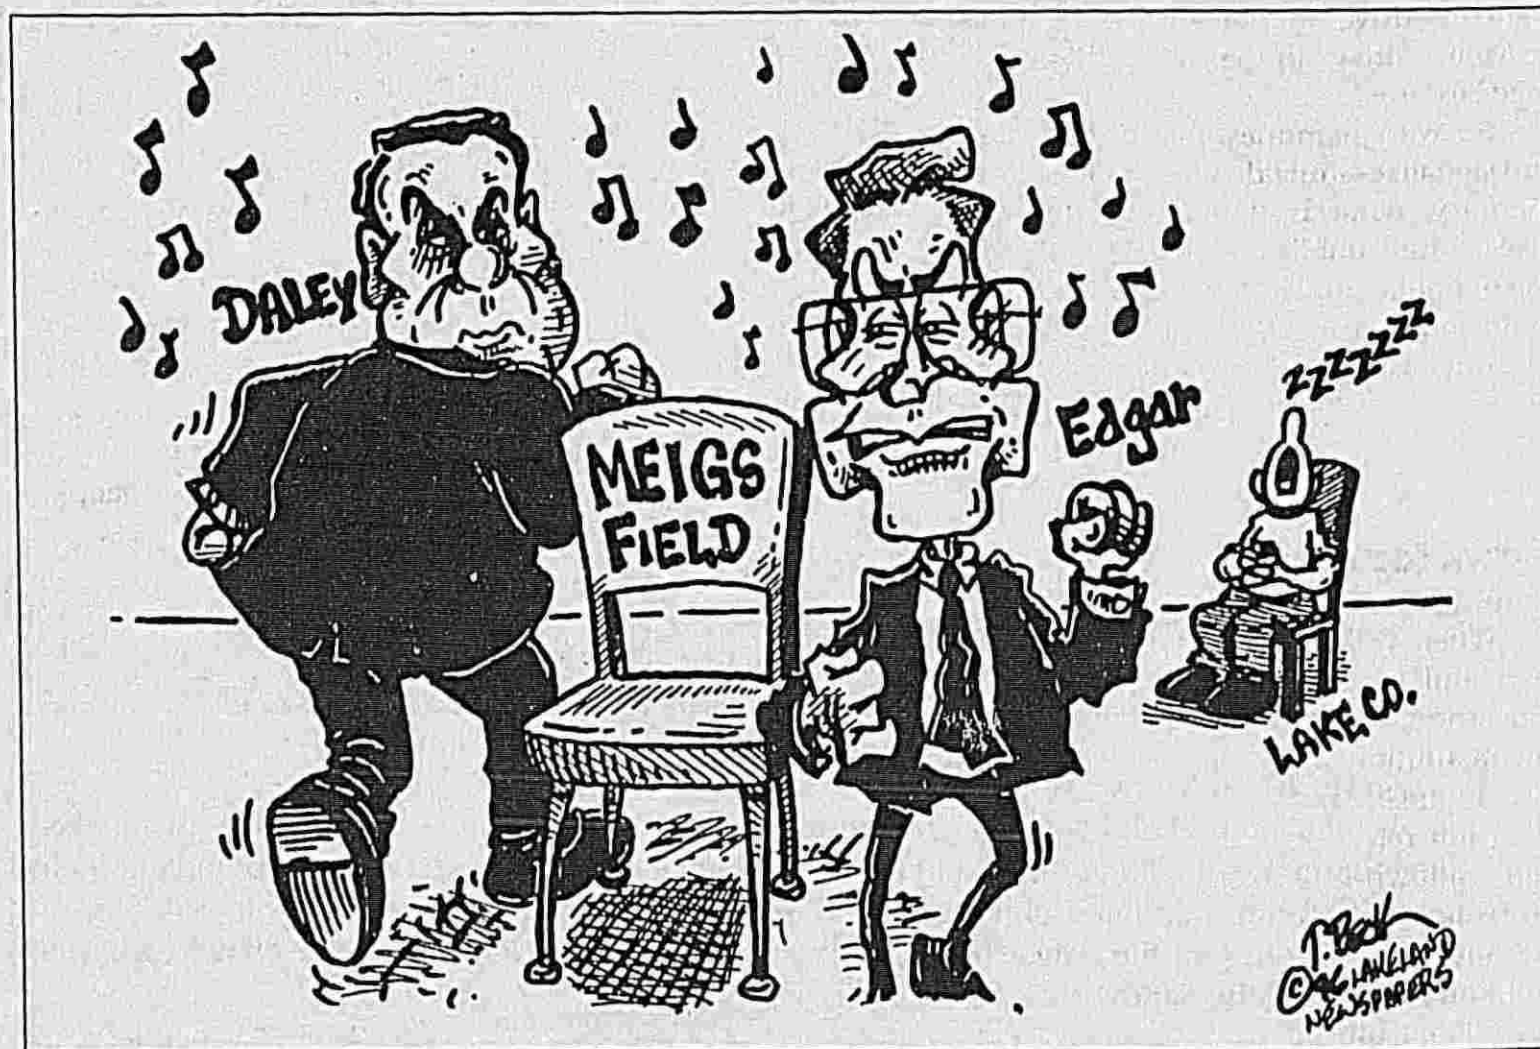

Family Center on Rte. 45, spent more time at the hospital during the holidays than expected. She delivered a son Dec. 26 at Lutheran General where she is completing a residency. A few days earlier she helped a prospective mom through a difficult delivery and then prepared for Kyle Robert's arrival. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Neal of Third Lake. The proud father is Jeff Winiger, a supervisor for a Northbrook tent sales and service concern. They currently reside in Wheeling.

*****
COWBOY TALES—Lisle Kauffman III was home for the holidays and regaled his parents with tales of being pressed into service as an emergency cowpoke in western Nebraska where he teaches the hearing impaired. Kauffman, 31, handled the No. 4 spot on a four-man crew moving a herd of cattle to winter quarters when a neighbor came up shorthanded. Lisle said novice cowhands don't wear 10 gallon hats. That's a no no. He donned a baseball cap for protection against sun and dust. His parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Lisle J. Kauffman Jr. of Round Lake.

LETTERS WELCOME

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain a home address and telephone number. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

PARTY LINES

New Year brings challenges for candidates, voters

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers' column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Competition—Two-year trustee James Krischke is challenging Lake Zurich Mayor Deborah Vasels for the village's top chair in April. Krischke is the only candidate to announce so far against Vasels, who has been plagued with recent leadership trials. Ironically, Vasels was also a two-year trustee when elected to the mayorship in 1993.

Referendum, referendum, referendum—Taxpayers living in areas of Vernon Hills, Libertyville, and Mundelein which overlap both Hawthorn School and Libertyville High School districts as well as the Cook Memorial Library District could face three separate referendum questions on their ballots in 1997.

Hawthorn and Cook Library are rushing toward an April referendum, while Libertyville High School will likely seek yet another building referendum in November. All three will be asking for additional facilities to service their growing populations.

Party Lines and Lakeland Newspapers will be keeping a watchful eye as each referendum rallies to its respective election dates.

As for the taxpayers in those areas, welcome to 1997. Decisions, decisions, decisions.

National assignment—Lake County Board Vice Chairman Audrey Nixon of North Chicago has been appointed to the National Association of Counties (NACo) Justice and Public Safety Steering Committee. Nixon has been a board member since 1982 and was elected vice chairman by her peers, Dec. 2.

Depke's back—

Shaun Depke has made it official he'd like to walk in the footsteps of his grandfather and father as Warren Township Supervisor. Depke has made his election bid official as of Christmas week. Robert Depke has been supervisor of Warren Township since 1961. Bob Depke's father, Justus Depke, held the post eight years prior to his son.

LETTERS TO THE Editor

Drivers like freebies

Editor:

You miss the point, Mr. Bordelon. The problem is not "transportation," but is indeed the one-person driver of almost every one of those almost 200,000 more cars in Lake County since 1981. We can put in new commuter rails, but they get a cool reception (see same issue as your commentary.)

We can spend millions on Pace bus research and routing, but outside of taxpayer-paid runs to CLC and Carmel, they run empty to ever-widening suburban sprawl.

We increase Metra schedules, and people prefer to drive—mainly because their job, which used to be in the Loop, is now in the suburbs. Mr. Bordelon, that is not our problem.

The county has responsibility for county roads.

The problems you outline are Illinois and U.S. Dept. of Transportation respectively. And, with the money we have, we do a darn good job. Trouble is, there is barely enough to maintain, let alone improve, signalize, and widen.

You are talking about a problem of growth.

Mr. Bordelon, where are those people and cars coming from? If you said, "new home development," you are right. Municipalities continue to build, adding hundreds of thousands of daily trips to our existing roads. So, how does building in Grayslake, Gurnee, and Hainesville become a county problem?

The county is considering asking the state legislature to allow it to levy a gas tax—you know, a tax on those one-person-to-a-car drivers who are complaining about the roads—but we feel a revolt would happen in short order. No. They want to "drive" to shop for their house, move in, "drive" to their job, and get new roads for free.

So, with no money to improve, widen, and signalize—outside of your clever commentary, what is your solution? More taxes? More public transportation? More use of public transit? Do you have an idea, or do you have a complaint?

I'm anxious to hear your solution.

'Laws for sale' hurtful

Editor:

When will our senators, representatives and governor stop passing special legislation that the courts then deem unconstitutional. It appears to be "laws for sale" to the highest bidder.

I am referring to the special legislations allowing Lake Forest's Conway Farms area to detach from school District 103 and Vernon Hills to detach territory from one fire district to another.

All told, our state government officials have wasted over $1,000,000 in taxpayers' money in legal bills paid to fight these stupid laws. Do our representatives even bother to read these laws before signing them? It's so obvious they are special legislation, illegal under our constitution.

I wonder if they have even read the constitution at this point. We should send these so-called representatives a bill for the $1,000,000 wasted so far and see if they will sign that one. No wonder everyone keeps raising our taxes.

Respect snowmobilers

Editor:

Hey, snowmobilers. Wasn't it great to see the snow fall the last couple of weeks? Besides ensuring that your machines are ready, take some time to think "safety."

Safe snowmobiling means driving within your own capabilities and operating at a safe and appropriate speed for the terrain. Safety education classes are being held in conjunction with the Dept. of Natural Resources throughout the county as well as the state. These classes are open not only to children ages 12 to 16, to get their certificate to operate a snowmobile legally, but for adults, who are also welcome to attend.

While driving snowmobile trails are marked by volunteers from snowmobile clubs, such as the Northeastern Ill. Assn. of snowmobile clubs. Respect the landowners and stay on the marked trails, or as the saying goes, "the trails may not be available next year." Do not ride in areas unless you have permission. After the last snowfall, it was very disappointing to see snowmobile tracks in illegal areas such as open fields, park district grounds and school fields.

Also, remember that some snowmobiling trails are used by other recreations, so we as snowmobilers need to be considerate of their choice of enjoying the outdoors.

Snowmobilers can be a fun and enjoyable sport, if we are considerate and keep safety in mind. I encourage all snowmobilers to get involved and join a Snowmobile Club. For more information, contact the NIASC or your local snowmobile dealer.

'Mike's Math' derided

Editor:

F.T. "Mike" Graham's pontifications are only more of the same distortions, misrepresentation and deceptions that have plagued him in his whole public life.

Graham is unable to point to any study or factual report to substantiate his "evidence" of the public cost or tax impact of development other than his personal oratory of so much per house, flooding upstream (or is it downstream?), one plus one equals millions, or more of "Mike's Math."

The only thing that is certain is Graham was responsible for the largest tax increase in the history of Lake County in Libertyville Township in 1988. The 1988 Libertyville Township Open Space district did not stop the Cuneo development promised by Graham. Nor did it result in lower taxes, less traffic or any of Graham's other promises.

What evidence there is supports the fact that only two developments in Lake County have cost the public anything as Graham alleges and he was part of both for his pro development allies.

The first is the baronial Canterbury Estates in Libertyville with over two million dollars in landscaping and buffer paid for by Libertyville Township residents. And the second is, the Ranney Casey Almond developers' massive Prairie Crossing development, consuming over 300 acres of our precious farm land and using Libertyville's and the Forest Preserve District's open lands as an amenity in all of its sales plans to make Graham's wealthy developer friends richer at our expense.

Plan for separation

Editor:

After numerous years of study, debate, committee meetings referendums, and much wasted tax dollars, it has become quite obvious what the best solution is to the overcrowding of the Libertyville High School and Cook Memorial Library.

Save referenda for real, not perceived, necessities

NORMAN H. GOROSHNIK

Here in Lake County, when all the villages are busy trying to propose all sorts of projects that require referendums, the result is raising real estate taxes to secure money. Trying to build everything, thinking this is what will be for the best interests of the people.

If they allocated $1 million for computers for the school districts, that by itself is an investment for the children. Also the replacement of a middle school, that is an investment for the next 40 years.

However, if a proposal is to build a recreation site, with tennis courts, baseball field, and a volleyball court or a new pool, that requires a referendum. We must regard that as a luxury.

Our leaders are telling us, they want it. But the village cannot afford it.

What is important, is to keep the referendum as our security cushion. In case of any major disaster, we need that source to rely on to help rebuild.

There are reasons to go ahead with a project. But to say, "No" and wait until such time as conditions would present themselves, even though contributions have been pledged, we must determine how many people actually will benefit from non-affordable proposals. Many people are living on the edge today, with the loss of jobs. Little in savings. Taxes and interest rates, making their paychecks they receive, a reimbursement on an expense voucher. Thanks. But no thanks to referendums.

Editor's note: Norman Goroshnik is retired. He resides in Gurnee.

Adler Cultural Center celebrates folk music program's 22nd anniversary

As new calendars appear each year on our walls, the folks at the David Adler Cultural Center like to mark the beginnings and longevity of folk music at Adler House. As usual, this year's birthday will be celebrated with two benefit concerts and dances on Jan. 4 and Jan. 25. The 7 p.m. shows will be held at Libertyville American Legion Hall at 715 N. Milwaukee Ave.

The centerpiece of our celebration is remembering how this Lake County folk music community came into being in the first place. The Jan. 25 concert will feature Doug and Bonnie Miller, the founders of the folk music program that became first the Libertyville School of Folk and Old Time Music and then the David Adler Cultural Center. They are coming from Dodgeville, Wis. where they head up Folklore Village. The Jan. 4 concert will feature a kind and gentle song circle, such as has graced many a Friday Night Open Stage through the years. Among those sharing their talents are longtime Adler participants Don and Marcia Morman, Glenn Shubert, Bonnie Biehl, and Fred and Judy Bowen.

The concert lineup for both nights includes other old friends who have performed regularly at Adler House Concerts and Open Stages over the years: Shinobu Sato and Phil Cooper and Margaret Nelson (who will be joined by Kate Early) on Jan. 4 and, Fred Campeau and Pat Gaughan on Jan. 25. Sato and Gaughan are both guitar instructors at the DACC. Two other members of the Adler music faculty will also be on stage: Paul Tyler, who teaches fiddle and mandolin will perform old time songs on the 25th and call square dances both nights, and Kathy Casper will banjo in the Jordanares for the dance on the fourth.

The birthday concerts will also offer a preview of two performers who will be returning to Libertyville in the spring for performances on the Adler House stage. Michael Miles, scheduled for Jan. 4, will be back on March 8 to perform his one-man theater piece, "The Magic Banjo and How it Sings." Hammer dulcimer artist Peter Martin (Jan. 25) will return on April 12 as one half of the progressive Celtic duo Meriweather.

The Adler Storytelling Group will also have a presence at each birthday concert. The Double Deckers—Jim and Karen Decker—will appear on Jan. 4, while Vicki Elberfeld will do her part on Jan. 25.

The concerts begin at 7 p.m. After a break for birthday cake, the second set each evening will continue to about 9 p.m. Then we'll clear the floor and have a square dance. Tickets are $9, $7 for Adler Center members and senior citizens, and half price for children under 16. Tickets may be purchased at the door. For more information, call the Center at 367-0707 during regular business hours, including Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The David Adler Cultural Centers Folk and Ethnic Music Programs are sponsored in part by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a State agency.

Start 1997 with new opportunities, chance of success

"If wrinkles must be written upon our brows, let them not be written upon the heart. The spirit should never grow old." James Garfield

As you read this column, we are entering a brand new year. It means that we are another year older and hopefully a little wiser. It also means that we are blessed with new opportunities.

My dictionary defines opportunity as "a combination of circumstances favorable for the purpose." To me, opportunity has even deeper meaning. An opportunity is a chance to accomplish, achieve or gain something of great value.

As the years pass swiftly by, I find my perception of value is changing. When I was younger, my dreams were filled with wealth and material things. I wanted a big house, expensive automobiles, and lots of money. I wanted people to think of me as a successful and terrific person.

Now that I have lived through many new years, I'm realizing that a big house does not make a happy home if there are no loving and caring relationships inside. I'm also beginning to see that the price and make of the car folks drive has little to do with the owner's character, integrity and personal success. And money, well, it can slip through our fingers like grains of sand.

So, what exactly am I saying? I'm trying to say that this new year brings each of us an opportunity. A fleeting, difficult to grasp, chance of success.

A new way to look at success

Truett Cathy, author of "It's Easier to Succeed than to Fail," wrote, "We make a living by what we get—but we make a life by what we give." As I look at those quiet folks I've grown to respect and admire, I find that they are all givers. They give of themselves as well as their resources. Their success comes from their giving, not from what they've gained.

I often read on the front page of the newspaper where an individual or family donates $10,000 or $100,000 to this or that worthy cause. Of course, many worthy organizations need and appreciate these funds. However, I often question the motivation of such giving. Was the money given because of the need or because of the desire for recognition?

The issue of giving makes me think of the Biblical account of the widow's mites. In Mark, Chapter 12, a widow put two mites—mites were the smallest coin used by the Jews, and two mites would be less than a penny today—into the offering for the temple. All around her wealthy people were throwing large sums into the treasury. However, it was the widow's mites that caused Jesus to speak to his disciples. Christ explained to them that the widow did more with her two mites than

GLCU helps make holidays joyful children

Great Lakes Credit Union (GLCU) and its employees have helped bring joy to the kids at the Central Baptist Children's Home (CBCCH) for the past 19 years. This year, GLCU raised a record-breaking contribution of nearly $2,000.

Located in Lake Villa, CBCCH provides adoption services, community based youth services, and counseling for children and families in Illinois and Missouri.

GLCU employees bought holiday gifts for 52 children with the donations. The donations are gathered year-long through activities such as aluminum can and paper recycling rebates, candy bar sales and a craft show silent auction. GLCU also contributed a check for $500.

GLCU has $230 million in assets and serves over 73,000 members worldwide.

Future of telecommunications topic of Power Breakfast

Catch a glimpse into the future of telecommunications when Douglas L. Whitley and Paul L. Ashley address the January meeting of the Lake County Power Breakfast. Ashley, longtime General Manager of U.S. Cable of Lake County and Whitley, president of Ameritech Illinois are the guests at the monthly business breakfast at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth.

"We're excited that two prominent leaders in the telecommunications industry are available to address such an important topic," noted Charles C. Isely III, president/CEO of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce. "We're in the age of communications and this is a great opportunity to get the inside story on the future of the industry and what it means to each of us. The combination of viewpoints of both the phone company and cable company should make for an interesting morning on Jan. 8."

A longtime Illinois public servant, Whitley was named president of Ameritech Illinois in 1993. Just two years earlier, he was one of 32 leaders from across the country selected for the prestigious Henry Toll Fellowship Program, sponsored by the Council of State Governments. Whitley also served on each of the three major Illinois tax study commissions of the 1980's and chaired the only one that produced significant results. He also chaired the Governor's Revenue Review Committee, responsible for reforming Illinois' sales tax laws in 1987.

Ashley has been General Manager of the area's largest cable television provider since 1984, serving over 67,000 households in 17 communities. Prior to joining US Cable, Ashley was Village administrator for Lindenhurst. He is active as the US Cable liaison to all communi-

TeleFile tax packages are coming

If you are eligible to file by telephone through the Internal Revenue Service TeleFile system, you will receive a TeleFile tax package in the mail by early January.

It's very important that you save your TeleFile package even if it's too early to think about taxes. If you lose your package, it can't be replaced and you won't be able to TeleFile.

The TeleFile tax package includes a special identification number that allows you to file your taxes by phone. And, as soon as you get your W-2's, you can file your return and get your refund in about three weeks.

Nationwide, over three million people filed their federal tax returns by phone last year—about 15 percent of those eligible to use TeleFile. TeleFile is free—the call is toll-free and is available 24 hours a day. Filing through TeleFile is fast, you can file your return in about 10 minutes. And, it's easy. The instructions are simple and the computer does all the calculating.

Flink selected executive director of the year

The United Way of Suburban Chicago has selected LaCASA's Torrie Fink as its 1996 Affiliate Agency Executive Director of the Year.

Flink

Given once a year to an affiliate agency executive director who has demonstrated outstanding leadership in the delivery of human care services, the award recognized Flink's unwavering spirit and personal dedication to eliminating the threat of sexual assault from our society.

In accepting this award at the United Way of Suburban Chicago's annual meeting at Drury Lane Oakbrook Terrace, Flink praised LaCASA's staff and volunteers for helping her expand LaCASA from a grass-roots organization to one of Chicagoland's most effective sexual assault crisis intervention and survivor assistance agencies in the 13 years since it was founded. "No single person or small group of people have made LaCASA the vital, proactive organization it is today," she said. "Whether I'm at the office, helping with volunteer training, or participating in personal safety days at area schools, team enthusiasm is evident and re-invigorating every day."

Flink credits The United Way's generous annual support with providing the financial foundation for LaCASA's ability to effectively respond to the increasing cases of sexual assault reported in Lake County.

"While LaCASA relies heavily on individual and corporate financial support to fund many of its education and outreach programs, our affiliation with the United Way gives us the credibility and stability needed to serve the needs of Lake County residents," Flink said.

Guided by Flink's unswerving dedication to the cause, the activities of 13 full-time and two part-time staff, 85 survivor advocates, over 100 Capital Campaign volunteers and 25 member Board of Directors are efficiently directed toward the common good of serving the needs of the community.

"Rape touches everyone in all works of life, without regard to gender, race or economic status. For victims and their families, the physical and emotional trauma is unimaginable and dealt with in a very private manner," Flink said.

LaCASA is currently in the process of securing $1.5 million needed to complete construction of such a private place in the form of a new headquarters and counseling facility to serve all Lake County residents. "Our goal is to continually improve our ability to provide specialized services to meet the needs of survivors, as well as better educate and enlighten the community on how to better protect ourselves and how to work to eliminate this heinous crime," she said.

For information on LaCASA programs, call 244-1187.

International stocks may be good choices in '97

International, mid-cap and small-cap equities may be the best bet for investors in 1997 because they lagged the overall market this year, according to the head of investment strategy for First Chicago NBD Investment Management Co.

All three types of stocks are particularly attractive given the many cross-currents at work in the market after another year of record-breaking highs, said Claude Erb in Investment Perspectives, a monthly newsletter to clients.

"One move investors can make is to adjust their stock portfolios to sectors that have not participated in the market rally, particularly the international and small and mid-cap equities," said Erb.

Through the first 11 months of 1996, the Standard and Poors 500—an index of larger stocks—rose 25.5 percent. Small-cap stocks returned barely half that, as the Russell 2000 index rose just 13.6 percent. International stocks showed even smaller gains, rising just 7.7 percent, as measured by the MSCI EAFE (Morgan Stanley Capital International, Europe, Australia and Far East) index. The Russell MidCap index rose 20.2 percent.

"The biggest gains in stock prices in 1996 came from a narrow range of stocks, many of them large, blue-chip companies," Erb said. "But those gains were enough to push up many of the popular stock market indexes such as the Dow Jones Industrial Average and the S&P 500. For example, one stock—General Electric—accounted for 5.7 percent of the S&P 500 index's returns for the first 10 months of 1996. If an investor had underweighted such top-performing stocks, portfolio returns would likely have underperformed the index."

The gains of a relatively few stocks may be attributed to major inflows into large, blue-chip equity mutual funds as investors poured billions into their 401(k) plans at work, Erb said. It also may reflect the later stages of a bull market.

This narrowing of performance doesn't necessarily presage a market downturn, but Erb said, "It is worrisome. This is one reason to adjust investment portfolios. In addition to international equities and small and mid-cap stocks, we'd look specifically at value stocks domestically."

Griefnotes

How can I prevent difficulties from grief?

Many who confront grief for the first time are surprised at the intensity of their feelings. Grief is most often associated with the death of a loved one but it can also result from divorce, loss of bodily function, moving or from child growing up and leaving home. Because grief is poorly understood, those who have not experienced it personally can be poor helpers. By learning about grief ahead of time we can more capably assist friends in their time of need and can more readily understand the intensity of feelings when death affects our families. Take time to read and inquire about grief and learn ways to assist those in need of support.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,

While at a recent gathering of friends, one friend mentioned that she went to a career counseling center due to the fact that she has been unemployed for the past 4 months and felt she needed help. While in the process of telling a few of us friends how they charged her for analyzing her resume and for trying to put her in what they called "the right career path." I started to listen closely to what she was saying because it all sounded so weird. She says she has sat in on three sessions so far and mentioned how much she is paying for these sessions. I had to step in and ask her... "isn't that exactly what an employment agency does?" I explained to her that I had registered with your service in particular, and that resume analysis and career counseling was a free service to all your applicants. I apologized for sticking my two cents in on her business, but I am concerned that she is paying for a service she should be getting for free! Please print this so she knows I am right! Thanks. P.G.-Libertyville

Dear P.G.,

Employment agencies such as ours, generally as a rule offer free career counseling as well as resume analysis as part of our every day business. It is a process that is used in order to place applicants in jobs they are well suited for, and goes hand in hand with matching up an employee and employer. Without counseling, a good employment counselor would be at a loss to know what your needs are, your likes and dislikes. Without counseling it would be difficult to make that perfect match between employer and employee. This should now be confused, however, with the fact that there are career counselors with backgrounds in psychology, that delve into problems far greater pertaining to employment, such as people with phobias, rehabilitation, deeper anxieties relating to employment which may keep them from obtaining or holding down a job. In other words, these people have higher hurdles to jump. At that point, it is best to seek outside sources for professional help. If your friend is in a situation where she is just looking for a new job perhaps as a friend you should ask her to evaluate whether or not she needs to be paying for this service. In a case where one is considering making a career change, recently unemployed or a similar situation, an employment agency that does not charge a fee for their services should be their first attempt at regrouping. There is nothing to lose. I hope that you feel close enough to this friend to ask her if she knows the difference. Since she is currently unemployed and doling out monies for this service she is pursuing...chances are she could stand to know there is an alternative.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.

"DUKE"

"DUKE" is a pure bred, male Doberman who recently arrived at Orphans of the Storm. Duke is a handsome boy with a sable brown coat, perk ears and tan points. Just two to three years old, this sturdy dog is exceptionally good looking, with the features and qualities that have endeared this breed to discriminating dog owners for generations. Duke is a calm dog and he wants to please. Eminently trainable, Duke has a calm disposition and a sweet affectionate nature. Dobe's are sensitive dogs and Duke is no exception. A shelter environment, no matter how nurturing, can never take the place of a home, and Duke's yearning for a home and a family is clearly evident in his intelligent face. This holiday season, give yourself and a very deserving dog the loving home he deserves. It's the very best gift of all!

ALL DOGS BENEFIT FROM BASIC HOUSEBREAKING & OBEDIENCE TRAINING WHICH HELPS BOND DOG TO OWNER. CRATING IS RECOMMENDED WHEN THE OWNER IS AWAY FOR THE FIRST YEAR IF NEEDED.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS EASTERN DIVISION
Home Savings of America, FSB, Plaintiff, VS. Deborah A. Sarno, Chicago Title and Trust, as Trustee, Defendants. Case No. 95 C 6731. Judge CASTILLO.
NOTICE OF SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE OUR FILE NO. 28409. (IT IS ADVISED THAT INTERESTED PARTIES CONSULT THEIR OWN ATTORNEYS BEFORE BIDDING AT FORECLOSURE SALES).

Public Notice is hereby given pursuant to a Judgement entered in the above entitled cause on February 13, 1996.

We, Thomas Johnson and Tina Douglas, Special Commissioner for this court will on January 15, 1997 at the hour of 1:30 p.m. at the front door of Lake County Courthouse, 18 County St., Waukegan, Illinois, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described premises:
c/k/a 910 Brush Hill Lane, Lake Zurich, IL 60047.
Tax #14-21-201-003

The improvements on the property consist of one story, brick constructed, single family dwelling with an attached garage.

Sale Terms: 10% down by certified funds, balance within 24 hours, certified funds. No refunds. The sale shall be subject to general taxes and to special assessments.
The property will NOT be open for inspection. The judgment amount was $109,825.93.

Upon the sale being made the purchaser will receive a Certificate of Sale which will entitle the purchaser to a Deed on a specified date unless the property is redeemed according to law.

For information call the Sales Officer at Plaintiff's Attorney, Fisher and Fisher, 30 North LaSalle, Chicago, Illinois. (312) 372-4784 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Under Illinois law, the Sales Officer is not required to provide additional information other than that set forth in this Notice.

BIABODE
Ownership of a duplex can provide many benefits for those interested in acquiring an income property. Some may choose to reside in one unit, while renting the other. Another option is to rent both accommodations and manage the holding.
One of the more modern and innovative duplex plans to hit the market in quite a while, is the Biabode. This two story design has 1210 square feet of living area in unit one, with the master suite on the main level and two bedrooms on the second level. The other side is an 890 square foot unit with two bedrooms, one and a half baths.
Both units have an attached garage that conveniently opens directly into the kitchen. This allows one to unload groceries with a minimum of bother. There is space in each garage to put a washer and dryer.
The master suite, in unit one, is a rarity in duplex design. Extending out from the back of the building, the amenities here include a large sleeping area, walk-in closet and a semi-private bathroom.
Both units have a living room that flows unimpeded into the dining area. The kitchen dimensions vary somewhat, but both allow for easy serving and feature built-in appliances. Unit one's dining room has a sliding glass door leading to a side patio. Unit two's dining room has a sliding glass door back patio. Both patios have enough room to relax in the sun, with a barbecue and some lounge levels in both units hold two bedrooms, each with closet space. The front bedroom is...
They share a corner bathroom with a linen closet located in the hallway.
For more information on the BIABODE (405-08LP60), send $10.00 to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw OR 97424 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark, or call 1-800-562-1151.

REALTORS*WE KNOW WHO YOU ARE...

And we know your customers will too, when Lakeland introduces the "Who's Who in Real Estate."

Starting soon, we will be running a special section for all Realtors. The section includes your business card (with your photo of course) in all 13 Lakeland Newspapers.

The cost for this service is as follows:

One week	2x2 space $50.00/week
One month	2x2 space $150.00
Two months	2x2 space $275.00 (includes 2x6 feature box)
Feature Box	2x6 space 100.00/week

This section was created with your advertising needs in mind. With the rapid growth in our market area, our readership has grown in leaps and bounds. As a result, our classified advertising is the most widely read and distributed in the Lake County and Great Lakes area.

Put our forty years of publishing experience and reputation to work for you. Please contact our experienced accounts' managers for further information or to register at

A NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE TO OUR CUSTOMERS & FRIENDS

As a new year approaches, we'd like to renew our commitment to meeting your advertising needs.

We're proud to be a part of this fine community and would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all of those who have played a part in our success.

the year ahead!*
